Christianity Thomas C. Sorenson, 2008-11-01 Christianity is in crisis in our North American context especially among the cultural elite and people with progressive views The reasons for the faith's loss of credibility have to do in large part with the dominant philosophical materialism of our culture and with the understanding of the faith almost universally held by Americans both inside the churches and outside them In this book Thomas C Sorenson calls this understanding Biblicism by which he means the belief that the Bible is to be understood only literally and that in one way or another its authority comes from its claimed origin with God Many enlightened people also reject Christianity because the only Christianity they know is the judgmental socially conservative faith that the most vocal and visible advocates of the faith among us so loudly espouse This book offers a different understanding of the faith It begins with a discussion of the universal human experience of the spiritual dimension of reality It then discusses symbol and myth as the necessary language for communicating that experience The book shows that all human experience is necessarily subjective and that religious truth is thus also necessarily subjective Therefore religious truth is relative not universal and absolute The work argues that the Bible is a human work expressing its authors experience of the divine The book then discusses other obstacles to faith and offers a different understanding of the issues they raise The book replaces the classical theory of atonement with a theology of the cross based mainly on the work of Douglas John Hall It redefines salvation as having to do with this life not with the afterlife It closes with a section that replaces the dominant social conservatism of popular Christianity with Jesus's teachings of nonviolence economic justice and radical inclusivity Novelties in the Heavens Jean Dietz Moss, 1993-03-15 In this fascinating work Jean Dietz Moss shows how the scientific revolution begun by Copernicus brought about another revolution as well one in which rhetoric previously used simply to explain scientific thought became a tool for persuading a skeptical public of the superiority of the Copernican system Moss describes the nature of dialectical and rhetorical discourse in the period of the Copernican debate to shed new light on the argumentative strategies used by the participants Against the background of Ptolemy's Almagest she analyzes the gradual increase of rhetoric beginning with Copernicus's De Revolutionibus and Galileo's Sidereus nuncius through Galileo's debates with the Jesuits Scheiner and Grassi to the most persuasive work of all Galileo's Dialogue The arguments of the Dominicans Bruno and Campanella the testimony of Johannes Kepler and the pleas of Scriptural exegetes and the speculations of John Wilkins furnish a counterpoint to the writings of Galileo the centerpiece of this study The author places the controversy within its historical frame creating a coherent narrative movement She illuminates the reactions of key ecclesiastical and academic figures figures and the general public to the issues Blending history and rhetorical analysis this first study to look at rhetoric as defined by sixteenth and seventeenth century participants is an original contribution to our understanding of the use of persuasion as an instrument of scientific

Our Cry for Revival Nick Harrison,2024-11-05 What Christian isn't hungering for revival Not just an emotional display of faith but a revival that changes lives renews churches and can even change history Such revivals as the Great Awakening the Welsh Revival and the Jesus Movement have earned their place in church history and are evidence that God is still alive and active Even smaller revivals such as the recent revival at Asbury University in Wilmore Kentucky caught the attention of the world as upwards of fifty thousand Christians traveled to the college campus to witness this move of God The recent movie The Jesus Revolution was a surprise success at the box office as once again Christians flocked to hear about revival Make no mistake there is a worldwide hunger for revival and especially so among American Christians The great news is that every Christian has a part to play in bringing about revival That part is first last and always prayer Revivals are born from prayer But will Christians pray Do they really want revival If recent events are indications of that fresh hunger for God in our midst then the answer is a resounding yes With daily Scripture readings reflections prayer prompts and quotes from classic Christian leaders this 365 day guide will aid you in your quest to experience both personal and widespread revival through persistent prayer Yes revival is on its way Will you be one of the prayer warriors to usher in this next great move of God
