Exposing the "Culture of Arrogance" in the Academy Gail L. Thompson, Angela C. Louque, 2023-07-12. There generally remains a gulf between the way most Black faculty perceive the racial climate at their institutions and the recognition by non-Black faculty and administrators that there are problems and that these perceptions have merit. This book is intended to promote a productive dialogue. This book weaves the authors' own experiences with the responses of 136 Black faculty to a questionnaire and a smaller sample who were interviewed to identify the factors that determine Black faculty's satisfaction or dissatisfaction with their jobs and institutions. Recurring themes underscore the importance of a supportive work environment that is built on mutual respect, full inclusion in the decision-making process, and an institutional climate that does not tolerate cultural insensitivity or racism. The qualitative and quantitative information and the authors' conclusions can help postsecondary institutions improve Black faculty satisfaction levels and ultimately retention rates. This book will resonate with any Black faculty who have felt frustrated enough to consider leaving a postsecondary institution and with those who are content at their current institutions. For non-Black faculty and for administrators of all races, the book illuminates the sources of job satisfaction and dissatisfaction, explains the reasons their Black colleagues leave or stay, and offers valuable recommendations for change. For anyone at any level interested in the issue of the racial climate at his or her institution, this book offers a constructive framework for discussion and action.

technical processes and or histories of film coloration or the meaning s of color as metaphor or symbol or else part of a broader signifying system Murray Pomerance s latest meditation on cinema has the author embed himself in various ways of thinking about color not ways of framing it as a production trick or a symbolic language but ways of wondering how the color effect onscreen can work in the act of viewing Pomerance examines many issues including acuity dreaming interrelationships saturations color contrasts color and performance color as a performance aid or even performance substitute and more The lavender of the photographer s seamless in Antonioni s Blow Up taken in itself as an explosion of color worked into form and then considered both as part of the story and part of our experience The 14 chapters of this book each discuss a single primary color as regards to our experience of cinema After opening the idea of such an exploration in terms of the history of our apperception and the variation in our experience that color germinates Color it True takes form Ticket to Read!
