Konstantin Melnikov And His House:

Konstantin Melnikov and His House Fritz Barth, 2015 Konstantin Melnikov 1890 1974 is unquestionably one of the outstanding architects of the 20th century in spite of the fact that he fell silent early leaving behind only limited work that was insufficiently publicized and restricted almost exclusively to Moscow the city of his birth in which he spent nearly his entire life and which did not appreciate him He was raised in humble circumstances but enjoyed an excellent education 0 In the late 1920s at the peak of his career he had the opportunity to build a house for himself and his family in Moscow in which he was then able to live until the end of his life This house a memorable symbiosis of almost peasant like simplicity and extreme radicalness is one of the most impressive surprising and probably most enigmatic works produced by 20th century architecture Its simplicity is only outward in reality this is a highly complex work which links together the elements of architecture explicitly and inextricably which takes a clear and completely autonomous stand and which in a way that little else has done raises the question as to the nature of genuinely architectonic thinking In essayistic form the book attempts to follow the paths laid out in the architect's work from the perspective of an architect The Melnikov House Pavel Kuznetsov, 2017-06 The Melnikov House a building designed by architect Konstantin Melnikov in Moscow for his family 1927 1929 is an icon of the architectural avant garde The house was originally built as an experimental cylindrical house to test out Konstantin Melnikov's very own concept of mass construction of residential estates This book covers the house in its current condition during its transformation from a family home to the State Melnikovs Museum The Melnikov House, Moscow (1927 - 1929) Juhani Pallasmaa, Andrei Gozak, 1996-09-12 Detailed documentation of this unique house renowned for its interlocking circle design Key Houses of the Twentieth Century Colin Davies, 2006 Featuring over 100 of the most significant and influential houses of the twentieth century For each of the houses included there are numerous accurate scale plans showing each floor together with elevations sections and site plans where appropriate All of these have been specially drawn for this book and are based on the most up to date information and sources The New Urban House Jonathan Bell, Ellie Stathaki, 2018-11-13 A stunning anthology of contemporary houses that showcases the ways that architecture can respond to local urban challenges while enhancing modern city living Architects face many challenges when designing a modern urban house Environmental performance aesthetics technical logistics material concerns site constraints these are all considerations that have the potential to limit what architects can achieve but that also can inspire creative solutions In addition each city's history obstacles and opportunities influence local design approaches Superbly illustrated with 600 color images this expansive compendium offers fascinating insights into building modern houses on a local level Jonathan Bell and Ellie Stathaki have selected urban structures from around the world to serve as both exemplary solutions and standout works of art in Beijing and Mexico City Athens and Tokyo Los Angeles and Cape Town By examining buildings on six continents from both emerging architects and established studios such as Zaha Hadid Architects MVRDV and Johnston

Marklee this stunning volume explores the many ways in which architecture can enhance the experience of dwelling in a modern city by responding to traditional styles and challenges of site and providing a broader understanding of place

Behind Architectural Filters Miguel Guitart, 2022-03-24 Behind Architectural Filters Phenomena of Interference explores the active role of architectural filters in generating physically and sensory charged spatial experiences The book addresses how the material and the psychological strategies of permeable physical boundaries determine our perceptual experiences of the spaces we occupy This book explores architectural filters as connecting mechanisms capable of conjuring unique atmospheres that integrate the participation of several agents The text analyzes ten case studies grouped under five generative parameters origin density thickness function and message Each study investigates the main aspects of the filters internal genesis and the character of the spaces informed by them The cases illustrate a broad geographic cultural and historical scope and connect past tradition with contemporary design This methodology considers a historical and philosophical standpoint addressing vernacular constructive sustainable and sensory considerations Written for students and scholars of architectural history theory art design and philosophy Behind Architectural Filters Phenomena of Interference offers an unprecedented perspective on the production of spatial atmospheres bridging past and present while connecting thought and practice in a highly visual study Chapter 3 of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

What Am I Doing Here Bruce Chatwin, 1990-08-01 In this text Bruce Chatwin writes of his father of his friend Howard Hodgkin and of his talks with Andre Malraux and Nadezhda Mandelstam He also follows unholy trails on his travels such as the rumour of a wolf boy in India or the idea of looking for a Yeti

The Melnikov House, An icon of modern architecture the Melnikov House designed by world famous architect Konstantin Melnikov 1890-1974 tells the incredible story of how this utopian design from the late 1920s in Moscow imprisoned the fate of the architect when Joseph Stalin prohibited modern architecture from the Soviet Union Hear the story of how Melnikov was denied his right to work as an architect and was in practice placed under house arrest in his own home

The Tragedy of Property Maxim Trudolyubov, 2018-08-08 Russian novels poetry and ballet put the country squarely in the European family of cultures and yet there is something different about this country especially in terms of its political culture What makes Russia different Maxim Trudolyubov uses private property as a lens to highlight the most important features that distinguish Russia as a political culture In many Western societies private property has acted as the private individual's bulwark against the state in Russia by contrast it has mostly been used by the authorities as a governance tool Nineteenth century Russian liberals did not consider property rights to be one of the civil causes worthy of defending Property was associated with serfdom and even after the emancipation of the serfs the institution of property was still seen as an attribute of retrograde aristocracy and oppressive government It was something to be destroyed and indeed it was in 1917 Ironically it was the Soviet Union that with the arrival of mass housing in the 1960s gave the concept of private ownership a good name After forced collectivization and mass urbanization people were yearning for a space of their own The collapse of the Soviet ideology allowed property to be called property but not all properties were equal You could own a flat but not an oil company which could be property on paper but not in reality This is why most Russian entrepreneurs register their businesses in offshore jurisdictions and park their money abroad This fresh and highly original perspective on Russian history will be of great interest to anyone who wants to understand Russia today Machine à Amuser Wim Van Den Bergh, 2024-04-09 A richly illustrated history of a single building the celebrated and yet enigmatic penthouse of the wealthy playboy Charles de Beistegui designed by Le Corbusier and Pierre Jeanneret in late 1920s Paris What does it take to build not only a house but a machine for amusement In Machine Amuser Wim van den Bergh chronicles the genesis of the famous penthouse of French born Mexican millionaire bachelor Charles de Beistegui The penthouse was planned and constructed by Le Corbusier Pierre Jeanneret and built on a rooftop site on the Champs lys es between 1929 1932 Retracing the evolution of this icon of modern architecture from the initial competition between Gabriel Guevrekian Andr Lurc at and Le Corbusier Pierre Jeanneret up to the executed version van den Bergh tells the story of a client s ambition to build a house devoted to entertaining on one of the most well heeled streets of Paris Machine Amuser also examines the cultural milieu of artists and patrons that surrounded Beistegui and which ultimately determined the apartment s conception and use including its rococo and surrealist inspired interior decor Drawing on a panoply of archival material van den Bergh narrates the tensions that arose between client and architects as each vied for creative control of the project As the book shows while Le Corbusier with his cousin Pierre Jeanneret remained the official architects of the penthouse its famed interior was ultimately designed by the client Charles de Beistegui An account of a single building beloved by architects and architectural historians Machine Amuser tells a story that has never been told before Van den Bergh redresses this lacuna in rich detail revealing the history of the Beistegui penthouse the evolution of the project and its eventual erasure from the roofscapes of Paris The Melnikov House Pavel Kuznetsov, 2017 Das Melnikov Haus von Konstantin Melnikov in Moskau f r seine Familie entworfen 1927 1929 ist eine Ikone der architektonischen Avantgarde Das Haus wurde urspr nglich als experimenteller zylindrischer Bau errichtet um Melnikovs Konzept f r Massenkonstruktion von Wohnsiedlungen zu testen Dieses Buch pr sentiert das Haus in seiner gegenw rtigen Situation w hrend der Transformation vom Familienhaus zum State Melnikovs Museum The Measure of Darkness Liam Durcan, 2016-02-22 Paragraphe Hugh MacLennan Prize for Fiction Winner National Reading Group Month Great Group Reads selection A deft exploration of the heart and mind that offers the pathos of a Sam Shepard play nested within the unreliable storytelling of Christopher Nolan s Memento Kirkus Reviews Martin an acclaimed architect emerges from a coma after a roadside accident to find his world transformed not only has the commission of a lifetime been taken from him but his injury has left him with neglect syndrome a loss of spatial awareness that has rendered him unfit to practice and unable to recognize the extent of his illness Despite support from his formerly estranged brother and two grown daughters his paranoia builds alienating those closest to him His only solace is found in the parallels he draws between himself and gifted Soviet era architect Konstantin Melnikov who survived Stalin s disfavor by retreating into obscurity As Martin retraces Melnikov s life and his own fateful decisions he becomes increasingly unsettled until the discovery of the harrowing truth about the night of his accident hurtles him toward a deadly confrontation A gripping journey into the depths of a fractured mind The Measure of Darkness is ultimately a resonant tale of resilience and healing Liam Durcan is the author of Garc a s Heart winner of the Arthur Ellis Best First Novel Award He lives in Montreal Quebec where he works as a neurologist at McGill University

Changing Trends in Architectural Design Education Jamal Al-Qawasmi,2006

The Embodied Image Juhani Pallasmaa,2011-05-16 The Embodied Image The Embodied Image Imagination and Imagery in Architecture Juhani Pallasmaa All artistic and architectural effects are evoked mediated and experienced through poeticised images These images are embodied and lived experiences that take place in the flesh of the world becoming part of us at the same time that we unconsciously project aspects of ourselves on to a conceived space object or event Artistic images have a life and reality of their own and they develop through unexpected associations rather than rational and causal logic Images are usually thought of as retinal pictures but profound poetic images are multi sensory and they address us in an embodied and emotive manner Architecture is usually analysed and taught as a discipline that articulates space and geometry but the mental impact of architecture arises significantly from its image quality that integrates the various aspects and dimensions of experience into a singular internalised and remembered entity The material reality is fused with our mental and imaginative realm The book is organised into five main parts that look at in turn the image in contemporary culture language thought and the image the many faces of the image the poetic image and finally the architectural image The Embodied Image is illustrated with over sixty images in pairs which are diverse in subject They range from scientific images to historic artistic and architectural masterpieces Artworks span Michelangelo and Vermeer to Gordon Matta Clark and architecture takes in Modern Masters such as Mies van der Rohe Le Corbusier and Alvar Aalto as well as significant contemporary works by Steven Holl and Daniel Libeskind

Leon Trotsky's Stopwatch Rax Rinnekangas, 2020-01-13 Mexico City Autumn 2004 A Nordic filmmaker arrives in the city to make a documentary about a major architectural landmark Luis Barrag n s Casa Estudio house He meets a Mexican woman who opens a totally new door into the world of the Russian Jewish ex communist leader Leon Trotsky who was murdered in Mexico in August 1940 The encounter sends the filmmaker on an extraordinary journey into an entirely new aspect of the most mistreated political figure of the 20th century and his philosophy The novel is also an exceptional love story set in an era when the concept of time has lost its original meaning and climate change is just an unpleasant possibility

Key Contemporary Buildings Rob Gregory, 2008 Third in the Key series this book features 95 buildings of the early twenty first century Each of the buildings is illustrated with one or two full color photographs and accurate scale floor plans elevations and sections as appropriate 1000 Monuments of Genius Christopher E.M. Pearson, 2014-11-24 Since the mythical Tower of Babel humans have continuously tried to erect monuments to match their oversized egos With ancient ziggurats the Taj Mahal or the Empire State Building man has for centuries demonstrated his force by raising structures for purposes both religious and profane As international cultural statements without words symbols of a peoples values devotion patriotism power symbols of a civilisation s grandeur these monuments still fascinate and attract an ever growing public who is captivated by the creativity and ingenuity of these architects and stonemasons Their historical message goes far beyond mere art history for they tell us of the lives and evolution of the peoples of the past as does the Parthenon in Athens many times destroyed rebuilt reused attacked pillaged and restored once again today This work featuring 1000 monuments chosen from around the globe retraces human history the techniques styles and philosophies necessary for the construction of so many splendours over the centuries providing a panorama of the most celebrated monuments while evoking the passion of their makers The reader can explore the changing values of humanity through the edifices it has built and understand these structures as triumphs of humankind The Russian Intelligentsia Christopher Read, 2024-02-22 The Russian

Intelligentsia is the first single volume history of a small but tremendously influential group of Russian intellectuals who achieved world renown in a variety of spheres While previous accounts have addressed the history of individuals within this collective Christopher Read offers the first explanation of the intelligentsia as a group Read traces the vast debates that broke out between and within a multitude of intellectual factions and contextualizes the ideas of the group within the framework of cultural social political and economic development from the late 18th century to the present day This comprehensive yet accessible account demonstrates how the Russian intelligentsia morphed from one incarnation to the next and effectively situates this change and continuity within a pan European context It considers the role of the intelligentsia throughout its origins its transformation during the Russian Revolution and since the collapse of communism and highlights the beliefs of key figures such as Fyodor Dostoyevsky Ivan Pavlov Vladimir Lenin Leon Trotsky and Mikhail Gorbachev In doing so Read provides an essential guide to a fascinating aspect of Russia's social and cultural history
