Catalog of the Rodgers and Hammerstein Archives of Recorded Sound Rodgers and Hammerstein Archives of Recorded Sound, 1981    The Etruscan World Jean MacIntosh Turfa, 2014-11-13 The Etruscans can be shown to have made significant and in some cases perhaps the first technical advances in the central and northern Mediterranean To the Etruscan people we can attribute such developments as the tie beam truss in large wooden structures surveying and engineering drainage and water tunnels the development of the foresail for fast long distance sailing vessels fine techniques of metal production and other pyrotechnology post mortem C sections in medicine and more In art many technical and iconographic developments although they certainly happened first in Greece or the Near East are first seen in extant Etruscan works preserved in the lavish tombs and goods of Etruscan aristocrats These include early portraiture the first full length painted portrait the first perspective view of a human figure in monumental art specialized techniques of bronze casting and reduction fired pottery the bucchero phenomenon Etruscan contacts through trade treaty and intermarriage linked their culture with Sardinia Corsica and Sicily with the Italic tribes of the peninsula and with the Near Eastern kingdoms Greece and the Greek colonial world Iberia Gaul and the Punic network of North Africa and influenced the cultures of northern Europe In the past fifteen years striking advances have been made in scholarship and research techniques for Etruscan Studies Archaeological and scientific discoveries have changed our picture of the Etruscans and furnished us with new specialized information Thanks to the work of dozens of international scholars it is now possible to discuss topics of interest that could never before be researched such as Etruscan mining and metallurgy textile production foods and agriculture In this volume over 60 experts provide insights into all these aspects of Etruscan culture and more with many contributions available in English for the first time to allow the reader access to research that may not otherwise be available to them Lavishly illustrated The Etruscan World brings to life the culture and material past of the Etruscans and highlights key points of development in research making it essential reading for researchers academics and students of this fascinating civilization

Jervis's Insects as Natural Enemies: Practical Perspectives Ian C.W. Hardy, Eric Wajnberg, 2023-11-09 There has been a dramatic increase in theoretical and practical studies on insect natural enemies over the last decades The appeal of insect predators and in particular parasitoids as research animals derives from the relative ease with which many species may be cultured and experimented on in the laboratory the simple life cycles of most parasitoid species and the increasing demand for biological pest control as a key component of the integrated pest management approach There is now a very substantial literature on insect natural enemies and thus a great need for a general text that enquiring students or research workers can use in deciding on approaches and techniques that are appropriate to the study and evaluation of such insects This book fulfils that demand It is a considerably updated and expanded version of a previous best seller and provides an account of major aspects of the biology of predators and parasitoids punctuated with information and advice on which experiments or observations to conduct and importantly how to carry them out Guidance is provided where necessary on the most recent further literature that may need to be consulted on given topics While researchers can now refer to several books on parasitoids and predators Jervis s Insects as Natural Enemies is unique in emphasising practicalities It is aimed at students and professionals working in universities and both government and commercial institutes in the fields of integrated pest management agriculture horticulture and forestry as well as those interested in fundamentals of behavioural population community and evolutionary ecology      Army ,1999
