, Translation and Rewriting in the Age of Post-Translation Studies Edwin Gentzler, 2016-11-03 In Translation and Rewriting in the Age of Post Translation Studies Edwin Gentzler argues that rewritings of literary works have taken translation to a new level literary texts no longer simply originate but rather circulate moving internationally and intersemiotically into new media and forms Drawing on traditional translations post translation rewritings and other forms of creative adaptation he examines the different translational cultures from which literary works emerge and the translational elements within them In this revealing study four concise chapters give detailed analyses of the following classic works and their rewritings A Midsummer Night's Dream in Germany Postcolonial Faust Proust for Everyday Readers Hamlet in China With examples from a variety of genres including music film ballet comics and video games this book will be of special interest for all students and scholars of translation studies and contemporary literature

Goethe's Faust I Outlined Evanghelia Stead, 2023-07-24 In a new approach to Goethe's Faust I Evanghelia Stead extensively discusses Moritz Retzsch's twenty-six outline prints 1816 and how their spin-offs made the unfathomable play available to larger reader communities through copying and extensive distribution circuits including bespoke gifts The images amply transformed as they travelled throughout Europe and overseas revealing differences between countries and cultures but also their pliability and resilience whenever remediated This interdisciplinary investigation evidences the importance of print culture throughout the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries in nations involved in competition and conflict Retzsch's foundational set crucially engenders parody and inspires the stage literature and three-dimensional objects well beyond common perceptions of print culture's influence This book is available in open access thanks to an Institut Universitaire de France IUF grant

The Caxton Head Catalogue James Tregaskis (Firm), 1915 British Museum Catalogue of printed Books, 1882 The Bibliographer Henry Benjamin Wheatley, 1882 The Canadian Forum, 1926 The Dial Francis Fisher Browne, Waldo Ralph Browne, Scofield Thayer, 1910 The Faust Tales of Christoph Rosshirt Christoph Rosshirt, 2019 Introduction Faust Christoph Rosshirt and his manuscript Facsimile edition Annotated German transcription with English translation Faust illustrated from Rosshirt to Delacroix Faust's identity and the significance of Rosshirt's tales about him The History and Future of Technology Robert U. Ayres, 2021-07-27 Eminent physicist and economist Robert Ayres examines the history of technology as a change agent in society focusing on societal roots rather than technology as an autonomous self-perpetuating phenomenon With rare exceptions technology is developed in response to societal needs that have evolutionary roots and causes In our genus Homo language evolved in response to a need for our ancestors to communicate both in the moment and to posterity A band of hunters had no chance in competition with predators that were larger and faster without this type of organization which eventually gave birth to writing and music The steam engine did not leap fully formed from the brain of James Watt It evolved from a need to pump water out of coal mines driven by a need to burn coal instead of firewood in turn

due to deforestation Later the steam engine made machines and mechanization possible Even quite simple machines increased human productivity by a factor of hundreds if not thousands That was the Industrial Revolution If we count electricity and the automobile as a second industrial revolution and the digital computer as the beginning of a third the world is now on the cusp of a fourth revolution led by microbiology These industrial revolutions have benefited many in the short term but devastated the Earth s ecosystems Can technology save the human race from the catastrophic consequences of its past success That is the question this book will try to answer
