for parents students and teachers Fixed John Y. Campbell, Tarun Ramadorai, 2025-10-21 Two leading economists reveal why today's personal finance markets are rigged against us and offer practical steps to fix them We interact with the financial system every day whether taking out or paying off loans making insurance claims or simply depositing money into our bank accounts Fixed exposes how this system has been corrupted to serve the interests of financial services providers and their cleverest customers at the expense of ordinary people John Campbell and Tarun Ramadorai diagnose the ills of today's personal finance markets in the United States and across the globe looking at everything from short term saving and borrowing to loans for education and housing financial products for retirement and insurance They show how the system is fixed to benefit those who are wealthy and more educated while encouraging financial mistakes by those who are not making it difficult for regular consumers to make sound financial decisions and disadvantaging them in some of the most consequential economic transactions of their lives Campbell and Ramadorai describe how some even opt out of the financial system altogether relying on unregulated and often shady mechanisms to implement necessary financial functions with dire consequences for individuals families and the economy more broadly With the explosive growth of the global middle class longer lifespans and greater numbers of seniors managing their money alone the pitfalls of personal finance now affect billions of people around the world Fixed proposes concrete solutions that harness the expertise of economists the power of government and the speed of technology to restore fairness and trust in our broken system and make it work better for ordinary people

The Robot Factory Joseph Ganem, 2018-08-27 This book exposes a disturbing misuse of the scientific method to advance policies and agendas that are in fact detrimental to both science and education The author a physics professor examines two related trends in education the practice of data driven reform and the disparaging of the traditional liberal arts in favor of programs with a heavy emphasis on science and technology Many of the reforms being foisted on educators have more in common with pseudo science than real science The reduction of education to a commodity and the shilling of science as a means to enhance corporate profits lead to an impoverished and stunted understanding of science in particular and of education in general How is it possible for schools with all students learning at grade level to be rated as failing teachers to be rated as ineffective after all their students meet their learning outcomes rising grade school math standards to result in more college students needing remedial math politicians to disparage scientists and their results but argue that more students should study science These bizarre outcomes have happened and are the result of an education system that misuses and misrepresents math and science in the classroom and in crafting education policies This book exposes the flawed and fallacious thinking that is damaging education at all levels throughout the United States and makes a compelling case for rethinking the standardized optimized and quantified approaches in vogue in education today to accommodate the different needs of individual teachers and students
