Finding Jess First Wave English Edition:

Best Laid Plans Jessica Halliday Hardie, 2022-08-30 Given the range of possibilities open to women today what futures do adolescent girls dream of and pursue And how do social class and race play into their trajectories In asking young women about their aspirations in three areas school work and family Best Laid Plans demonstrates how future plans are framed by notions of gendered responsibilities and abilities Through her examination of the lives of poor working class and middle class Black and White young women as they navigate the transition to adulthood sociologist Jessica Halliday Hardie defines anew what it means for young women to come of age In particular Hardie shows how social capital either possessed or lacked is not simply a resource for planning for the future but a structure whose form and function varies by social class and race As these inequalities persist into adulthood high aspirations social capital and careful planning bolster some young women while hindering others Drawing on qualitative data from a five year period Best Laid Plans makes the case for why we need to move beyond the individual appeal to dream bigger and plan better and toward systematic changes that will put young people's aspirations within reach

Lyric as Comedy Calista McRae, 2020-10-15 A poet walks into a bar In Lyric as Comedy Calista McRae explores the unexpected comic opportunities within recent American poems about deeply personal often embarrassing experiences Lyric poems she finds can be surprising sites of a shifting unruly comedy as seen in the work of John Berryman Robert Lowell A R Ammons Terrance Hayes Morgan Parker Natalie Shapero and Monica Youn Lyric as Comedy draws out the ways in which key American poets have struggled with persistent expectations about what expressive poetry can and should do McRae reveals how the modern lyric rather than bestowing order on the poet's thoughts and emotions can center on impropriety and confusion formal breakage and linguistic unruliness and self observation and self staging The close readings in Lyric as Comedy also provide new insight into the theory and aesthetics of comedy taking in the indirect glancing comic affordances of poetry In doing so McRae captures varieties of humor that do not align with traditional terms centering abjection and pleasure as facets of contemporary lyric practice
