The Hittite Gilgamesh Gary M. Beckman, 2019-06-15 From the late third millennium BCE on the adventures of the hero Gilgamesh were well known throughout Babylonia and Assyria and the discovery of Akkadian language fragments of versions of his tale at Bo azkoy Ugarit Emar and Megiddo demonstrates that tales of the hero's exploits had reached the periphery of the cuneiform world already in the Late Bronze Age A century of excavation at the Hittite capital of Hattusa mod Bo azkoy has yielded more textual sources for Gilgamesh than are known from all other Late Bronze Age sites combined The Gilgamesh tradition was imported to Hattusa for use in scribal instruction and has been of particular importance to modern scholars in reconstructing the epic and analyzing its development since it documents a period in the history of the narrative for which very few textual witnesses have yet been recovered from Mesopotamia itself And it is this very Middle Babylonian period to which scholarly consensus assigns the composition of the final canonical version of the epic The Hittite Gilgamesh offers a full edition of the manuscripts from Hattusa in the Hittite

In Quest of the Historical Adam William Lane Craig, 2021-09-28 Was Adam a real historical person If so who was he and when did he live William Lane Craig sets out to answer these questions through a biblical and scientific investigation He begins with an inquiry into the genre of Genesis 1 11 determining that it can most plausibly be classified as mytho history a narrative with both literary and historical value He then moves into the New Testament where he examines references to Adam in the words of Jesus and the writings of Paul ultimately concluding that the entire Bible considers Adam the historical progenitor of the human race a position that must therefore be accepted as a premise for Christians who take seriously the inspired truth of Scripture Working from that foundation of biblical truth Craig embarks upon an interdisciplinary survey of scientific evidence to determine where Adam could be most plausibly located in the evolutionary history of humankind ultimately determining that Adam lived between 750 000 and 1 000 000 years ago as a
