Celebrating Urban Community Life Melvin Delgado, 2016-05-12. Communal celebrations bring out the best in us offering a place for people to come together and take a break from the routines of daily life. They are a vital aspect of city life and are increasingly popular as an urban development strategy. Celebrating Urban Community Life is a comprehensive guide to understanding and enhancing communal celebrations as a source of community capital. Drawing on case studies from New York, San Francisco and Toronto, Melvin Delgado discusses the many ways in which fairs, festivals and parades can enhance communal life. Providing a framework for social scientists, urban planners and social workers to analyse and foster celebrations that benefit urban populations, the book is a valuable resource for those with an interest in this growing area of academic and practical interest.

New Frontiers in Social Innovation Research Alex Nicholls, Julie Simon, Madeleine Gabriel, Christopher Whelan, 2015-09-18. This book is open access under a CC BY license. Interest in social innovation continues to rise from governments setting up social innovation labs to large corporations developing social innovation strategies. Yet theory lags behind practice and this hampers our ability to understand social innovation and make the most of its potential. This collection brings together work by leading social innovation researchers globally exploring the practice and process of researching social innovation, its nature and effects. Combining theoretical chapters and empirical studies, it shows how social innovation is blurring traditional boundaries between the market, the state and civil society, thereby developing new forms of services, relationships and collaborations. It takes a critical perspective, analyzing potential downsides of social innovation that often remain unexplored or are glossed over, yet concludes with a powerful vision of the potential for social innovation to transform society. It aims to be a valuable resource for students and researchers as well as policymakers and others supporting and leading social innovation.
