Heritage, Memory, and Punishment Shu-Mei Huang, Hyun-Kyung Lee, 2019-09-23 Based on a transnational study of decommissioned postcolonial prisons in Taiwan Taipei and Chiayi South Korea Seoul and China Lushun this book offers a critical reading of prisons as a particular colonial product the current restoration of which as national heritage is closely related to the evolving conceptualization of punishment Focusing on the colonial prisons built by the Japanese Empire in the first half of the twentieth century it illuminates how punishment has been considered a subject of modernization while the contemporary use of prisons as heritage tends to reduce the process of colonial modernity to oppression and atrocity thus constituting a heritage of shame and death which postcolonial societies blame upon the former colonizers A study of how the remembering of punishment and imprisonment reflects the attempts of postcolonial cities to re articulate an understanding of the present by correcting the past Heritage Memory and Punishment examines how prisons were designed built partially demolished preserved and redeveloped across political regimes demonstrating the ways in which the selective use of prisons as heritage reframed through nationalism leaves marks on urban contexts that remain long after the prisons themselves are decommissioned As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology geography the built environment and heritage with interests in memory studies and dark tourism Proceedings of the ...
