Metadiscourse Exploring Interaction In Writing Ken Hyland:

Metadiscourse Ken Hyland, 2018-10-18 First released in 2005 Ken Hyland's Metadiscourse has become a canonical account of how language is used in written communication. Metadiscourse is defined as the ways that writers reflect on their texts to refer to themselves, their readers, or the text itself. It is a key resource in language as it allows the writer to engage with readers in familiar and expected ways and as such it is an important tool for students of academic writing in both the L1 and L2 context. This book achieves for main goals to provide an accessible introduction to metadiscourse, discussing its role and importance in written communication and reviewing current thinking on the topic to explore examples of metadiscourse in a range of texts from business, academic, journalistic, and student writing to offer a new theory of metadiscourse to show the relevance of this theory to students, academics, and language teachers. The book shows how writers use the devices of metadiscourse to adjust the level of personality in their texts to offer a representation of themselves and their arguments. It shows how these tools help the reader organise, interpret, and evaluate the information presented in the text. Knowing how to identify metadiscourse as a reader is a key skill to be learnt by students of discourse analysis, and this book makes this a central goal.

Metadiscursive Nouns Feng (Kevin) Jiang,2022-06-23 Based on a 1 7 million word corpus of 160 research articles from both soft and hard knowledge fields this book sets out to explore how a particular type of noun namely the metadiscursive noun is rhetorically used to mediate writer reader interaction in disciplinary writing Analysts of academic discourse have come to regard hedges reporting verbs directives and so on as forming part of a wide repertoire of interactive features available to authors suggesting a variety of terms including evaluation stance appraisal and metadiscourse One aspect which has been less fully explored however is the rhetorical role nouns play in achieving writers persuasive goals This book fills the gap by proposing a particular type of nouns as metadiscursive nouns as in this supports our hypotheses that youth are more likely to co offend when neighbourhoods are less disadvantaged The author aims to find out how writers employ metadiscursive nouns to engage and interact with readers in academic prose raising theoretical and pedagogical implications and how they can be applied in the teaching of academic writing This book will be of particular interest to students and scholars working in the areas of English for academic purposes corpus studies academic writing and linguistics in general societies and individual scholars specialised in corpus linguistics and historical linguistics all over the world Sharing Professional Knowledge on Web 2.0 and beyond Giuliana Garzone (ed.), 2020-05-27 T00:00:00+02:00 In recent years the use of Web mediated digital technologies has constantly grown in importance reshaping the communication landscape in all professional activities Web 2.0 applications and platforms have evolved dramatically exceeding all expectations and have had an impact on all areas of activity from personal and social to political and economic A crucial role in this radical transformation has been played by social media i.e. online resources enabling users to connect interact and share contents They have changed social relations profoundly on an individual level but also in their professional dimensions transforming the dynamics of how professionals work share knowledge and relate to each other and to their clients This book explores online professional blogging and networking platforms discussing methodological issues involved in analysing webmediated professional communication in a genre and discourse analytical perspective with a focus on the structural and textual properties of genres on the Internet The discursive objects investigated include professional weblogs and in particular law blogs professional groups on Facebook and LinkedIn and LinkedIn job ads Among the aspects examined are continuity with pre-existing traditional genres generic integrity and the debated status of social networking sites as platform users communities of practice The Voice of the Bridegroom Benjamin A. Roberts, 2021-02-02 Preaching is a relational act This book explores the relationship between the preacher and the assembly as a spousal relationship Written by a parish pastor with a doctorate in preaching and rooted in the Roman Catholic notion of the priest as bridegroom of the church this work examines characteristics of the spousal relationship between husband and wife and then provides an analysis of the ministerial priesthood through this nuptial lens This nuptial reflection on the ministerial priesthood is then applied to preaching This book presents a nuptial hermeneutic or vision for preaching and the implications of this vision for the assembly the preacher the homily and the homiletical method The appendices include a one page strategy for preaching summarizing the homiletical method a rubric for homily evaluation by members of the assembly and two sample homilies

Perspectives on Evidentiality in Spanish Carolina Figueras Bates, Adrián Cabedo Nebot, 2018-07-24 Evidentiality in communication is better investigated in delimited and recognizable contexts where the multiple levels of meaning in interactional practices are manifested Taking this viewpoint the present volume explores the interrelations between evidentials and textual genre in Spanish Adopting a discursive perspective all of the chapters examine how the functional category of evidentiality is brought into discourse which set of linguistic strategies evidentiality makes explicit what counts as evidence in certain contexts and in certain textual genres and what particular pragmatic meanings these mechanisms acquire invoke and project onto the on going discourse In particular this book is concerned with the relationship between evidential expressions and the pragmatic meanings triggered by those expressions and the role of genre in shaping the evidential meanings The volume is addressed to both theoretically and empirically minded scholars in the disciplines of Pragmatics Discourse Analysis Sociolinguistics Communication Studies and Psychology     How Students Write: A Linguistic Analysis Laura Louise Aull, 2020-04-01 Broad generalizations about people today are a familiar feature of first year student writing How Students Write brings a fresh perspective to this perennial observation using corpus linguistics techniques This study analyzes sentence level patterns in student writing to develop an understanding of how students present evidence draw connections between ideas relate to their readers and ultimately learn to construct knowledge in their writing Drawing on both first year and upper level student writing the book examines the discourse of students at different points in their education It also distinguishes between argumentative and analytic essays to explore the way school genres and assignments shape students choices In focusing on sentence level features such as hedges perhaps and boosters definitely this study shows how such rhetorical choices work together to open or close opportunities for thoughtful exchanges of ideas Attention to these features can help instructors foster civil discourse design effective assignments and expose and question norms of higher education     Intersubjectivity and Intersubjectification in Grammar and Discourse Lieselotte Brems, Lobke Ghesquière, Freek Van de Velde, 2014-08-15 Recent years saw a growing interest in the study of subjectivity as the linguistic expression of speaker involvement Intersubjectivity defined by Traugott as the linguistic expression of a speaker writer s attention to the hearer reader on the other hand has so far received little explicit attention in its own right let alone

systematic definition and operationalization Intersubjectivity and seemingly related notions such as interpersonal meaning appraisal stance and metadiscourse frequently appear in cognitive functional accounts as well as historical and more applied approaches These domains offer partly conflicting uses of intersubjectivity differ in the overall scope of the concept and the phenomena it may cover This book brings together contributions from a variety of different approaches with the aim of disentangling the current web of intertwined notions of intersubjectivity Rather than focusing on the potentially conflicting views the volume aspires to resolve some of the conceptual puzzle by cross fertilization between the different views and spark discussion on how to operationalize intersubjectivity in linguistic research Originally published in English Text Construction 5 1 2012

Self- and Other-Reference in Social Contexts Minna Nevala, Minna Palander-Collin, 2024-03-15

The chapters in this volume study the construction representation and negotiation of a variety of social roles through self and other reference markers or the discussion of reference as a tool for identification The chapters uncover new insights both from a historical and present day perspective and show how positioning the self and other varies what kind of reference choices language users make and what follows from these choices The data come from a variety of public texts private encounters and questionnaires and the methodologies range from macro to micro perspectives including combinations of qualitative close reading and quantitative corpus methods and synchronic and diachronic perspectives The findings enhance our understanding and use of reference practices in the context of global institutional political and multicultural as well as media texts

Engagement in Professional Genres Carmen Sancho Guinda, 2019-04-24 Engagement has turned essential in today's communication as professional communities are becoming more specialised and transient and their audiences more diverse Promotionalism and competitiveness in addition increasingly pervade human activity and thus engaging readers listeners and viewers to attract and persuade them is part of the know how of almost every profession The eighteen chapters in this book written by well known discourse analysts from different nationalities and research backgrounds and with various interests and understandings of communicative engagement guide us through a discovery of perspectives and strategies across work settings and practices genres semiotic modes discourses disciplines and theoretical frameworks and methods They build a mosaic that leads to a broad picture of meta discursive engagement as distance and raises current issues challenges and future research directions

Re-Assessing Modalising Expressions Pascal Hohaus, Rainer Schulze, 2020-11-15 Mood modality and evidentiality are popular and dynamic areas in linguistics Re Assessing Modalising Expressions Categories co text and context focuses on the specific issue of the ways language users express permission obligation volition intention possibility and ability necessity and prediction linguistically Using a range of evidence and corpus data collected from different sources the authors of this volume examine the distribution and functions of a range of patterns involving modalising expressions as predominantly found in standard American English British English or Hong Kong English but also in Japanese The authors are particularly interested in addressing co textual manifestations of modalising expressions as well as their distribution across different text types and thus filling a gap research was unable to plug in the past Thoughts on categorising or re categorising modalising expressions initiate and complement a multi perspectival enterprise that is intended to bring research in this area a step forward

The Function of Narrative Comments in the Gospel of John David A. Lamb, 2024-12-15 Scholars have long noted that comments by the author or editor often referred to as narrative asides or parentheses are frequent in the Fourth Gospel The Function of Narrative Comments in the Gospel of John A Literary and Linguistic Analysis is a comprehensive guide to this significant feature In the vein of Gilbert Van Belle s Les Parenthèses dans L'évangile de Jean 1985 Lamb provides a detailed analysis of the terminology definition and categorization of these comments and interacts extensively with existing scholarship He looks at the role of the comments in the Gospel s composition assesses their function using insights from literary theory dramatic theory and sociolinguistics and makes comparisons with OT historical writings the Synoptic Gospels and the works of Herodotus and Thucydides He concludes that the narrative comments are an integral part of the text which reflect the authority of the author and that they have significant implications for our exegesis of the Gospel

The Rise of Discourse Markers Bernd Heine, Gunther Kaltenböck, Tania Kuteva, Haiping Long, 2021-06-24 Discourse markers constitute an important part of linguistic communication and research on this phenomenon has been a thriving field of study over the past three decades However a problem that has plagued this research is that these markers exhibit a number of structural characteristics that are hard to interpret based on existing methodologies such as grammaticalization This study argues that it is possible to explain such characteristics in a meaningful way It presents a cross linguistic survey of the development of discourse markers their important role in communication and their relation to the wider context of sociocultural behaviour with the goal of explaining their similarities and differences across a typologically wide range of languages By giving a clear definition of discourse markers it aims to provide a guide for future research making it essential reading for students and researchers in linguistics and anyone interested in exploring this fascinating linguistic phenomenon

The Grammar of Interactives Bernd Heine, 2023-01-16 This book explores a domain of discourse processing referred to as interactive grammar based on an analysis of grammatical descriptions of over 100 languages spoken across the world While much previous work has treated interactive grammar as a fairly marginal part of language Bernd Heine describes it here as a distinct category that contrasts with sentence grammar both in its functions and its structural behavior He identifies ten types of interactives i.e. extra clausal expressions of linguistic discourse attention signals directives discourse markers evaluatives ideophones interjections response elicitors response signals social formulae and vocatives The analysis reveals that speakers make use of two contrasting modes for structuring their discourses both of which are needed for successful communication one is sentence grammar which has a propositional format and analytic organization the other is interactive grammar which has a holophrastic organization and a focus on social communication While the argument structure of sentence grammar is shaped by the propositional format of sentences that of interactive grammar is shaped by the indexical nature of the situation of discourse This distinction shows interesting correlations both with findings from neurolinguistic studies on differential activity in the two hemispheres of the human brain and with observations from social psychology on the differences between systems of reasoning and judgment
