On China's Military Rise Ming-Hsien Wong, 2015-04-01 Since the 21st century China's rise has become a fact and People's Liberation Army has developed rather quickly Thusso called China's military rise has become the most challenging phenomenon in world politics Regarding to its army building and readiness many studies have shown that the People's Liberation Army in 2020 will form a complete antiaccess area denial capabilities capable enough to turn China into a great military power in Asia Pacific It will have an impact on the Asia Pacific regional stability the cross strait military balance and under United States re balance strategy Under China's military threat Taiwan must be innovative in terms of strategic thinking and concept JSL Vol 24-N3 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL

LEADERSHIP, 2014-05-22 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors authors from traditionally marginalized populations and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice teach courses on school leadership and policy use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement Shaping Images Thorsten Stephan Beck,2016-09-12

Images play an outstanding role in the transfer of knowledge They are used in numerous academic disciplines to present scientific results Digital tools such as Adobe Photoshop make it possible to display the information in images brilliantly and clearly at the same time the line between appropriate and inappropriate manipulation is not always easy to draw Scientific journals have published guidelines for handling and editing images but they are not always specific enough to provide clarity for all situations Shaping Images examines how scholars from biology information science art history and design deal with this uncertainty how they process and manipulate images where they see their special potential and how they draw the line between appropriate and inappropriate image manipulation The work also looks at scientific journals and lets selected editors have their say What would have to happen to make it possible to combat image manipulation in science more effectively The book s interdisciplinary approach makes it clear how different the practices are and how different the views are on what should be allowed in the processing of images Images this too is problematized in the book are always a means to a certain end which is precisely why the handling of images should be thoroughly reflected upon Climate Change

Governance in Asia Kuei-Tien Chou,Koichi Hasegawa,Dowan Ku,Shu-Fen Kao,2020-07-19 Asian countries are among the largest contributors to climate change China India Japan and South Korea are among the top ten largest carbon emitters in the world with South Korea Japan and Taiwan also some of the largest on a per capita basis At the same time many Asian countries notably India Taiwan Japan the Philippines and Thailand are among those most affected by climate change in terms of economic losses attributed to climate related disasters Asia is an extremely diverse region in terms of the political regimes of its constituent countries and of their level of development and the nature of their civil societies As such its countries are producing a wide range of governance approaches to climate change Covering the diversity of climate change governance in Asia this book presents cosmopolitan governance from the perspective of urban and rural communities local and central governments state society relations and international relations In doing so it offers both a valuable overview of individual Asian countries approaches to climate change governance and a series of case studies for finding solutions to climate change challenges Action without Hope Nathan K. Hensley,2025-06-04

A study of how writers from the early phases of our prolonged climate emergency used aesthetic strategies to redefine the category of action What does it feel like to live helplessly in a world that is coming undone Nathan Hensley turns to Victorian literature to uncover a prehistory of this deeply contemporary sense of powerlessness For many in nineteenth century Britain their world seemed so scarred by human rapacity that restoring it seemed beyond the powers of any one individual Like George Eliot s characters in

Middlemarch or the doomed lovers of Wuthering Heights observers of the gathering carbon economy felt themselves ensnared by interlocked and broken systems In the face of damage so vast and apparently irreversible what could possibly be done To answer this question Hensley shows that nineteenth century writers and artists devised new ways to understand action and hope They rescaled action away from the grandly heroic and toward minor adjustments and collaborative interventions They turned away from logical proofs and direct argumentation and instead called on aesthetic technologies like sonnets and fractured lyrics watercolor sketches and vast multiplot novels finding scope for action not at the level of the theme or the thesis but in gestures and details Ranging from J M W Turner s painterly technique to Emily Bront s dreamlike fragments and reading along the way works by Alfred Lord Tennyson H G Wells Lewis Carroll Gerard Manley Hopkins William Berryman Charlotte Bront George Eliot and Christina Rossetti Hensley s study makes an important contribution to Victorian studies and the environmental humanities

Special edition compiled in partnership with Frontiers sponsored by the Clean Air Task Force The realisation of Net Zero by 2050 will require the ability for strategy developers operational planners and decision makers to better manage uncertainty complexity and emergence The application of the orthodox set of decision support tools and processes that have been used to explore deep decarbonisation options to 2050 have blinded decision makers to uncertainty complexity and emergence Tools have often been used which are inappropriate to the types of decisions being made a competency which has been glaringly revealed during the C 19 Pandemic This Frontiers Research Topic will highlight the need for an interdisciplinary mixed methods approach bringing together insights from modelling decision science psychology anthropology and sociology to form a compendium of current best practice for decision making for the net zero transformation and new research frontiers Develop greater awareness amongst policymakers practitioners and academics as to the importance of Understanding the nature of uncertainty when dealing with problems associated with the Net Zero Energy System Transformation Increasing importance of deliberative processes to map different value sets beyond least cost Acknowledging that decision making under uncertainty requires competency based training leading to a full appreciation of the tasks at hand Suggested areas within scope are listed in points 1 12 below Authors are free to choose specific areas of interest and to combine these where useful In general it will be useful to consider practical application of ideas e g development of Use Cases and Decision Making Contexts may be useful e g National Govt establishing its Carbon Budget Institution setting up its investment portfolio understanding of how decisions are being made within different jurisdictions political cultures and types of organizations public private What is the role of Decision Context i e organisational decision making structures cultures the role of zeitgeist and dominant narratives or the relation between academic expertise and policy makers 1 Decision making from an end to end perspective and the need to take a holistic and interdisciplinary perspective Editorial Cover Article 2 Gap

Towards Elimination of Dog Mediated Human Rabies Salome Dürr,Anna Sophie Fahrion,Lea Knopf,Louise Taylor,2017-10-06 Rabies is an ancient zoonotic viral disease that still exerts a high impact on human and animal health The disease is almost 100% fatal after clinical signs appear and it kills tens of thousands of people per year worldwide particularly in Africa and many parts of Asia Although the disease in humans can be prevented by timely post exposure prophylaxis its access and affordability is limited in rabies endemic countries With 99% of infections in humans caused by rabid domestic dog bites controlling the infection in this reservoir population has been proven to be most effective to reduce and eliminate human rabies cases In this context this Research Topic invited contributions on the control and elimination of dog mediated human rabies Publications on epidemiological educational policy related and economic aspects of dog and human rabies surveillance implementation of control in dogs and humans and scientific documentation of success stories were consolidated We hope that these articles contribute to reaching the ambitious goal set by key players in global health of the elimination of dog mediated human rabies by 2030

Political Narratives in the Middle East and North Africa Wolfgang Mühlberger,Toni Alaranta,2020-02-13 This book discusses the role of political narratives in shaping perceptions of instability and conceptions of order in the Middle East and North Africa

MENA The authors illustrate how in times of socio political turmoil and outbursts of discontent such as the Arab Spring political entrepreneurs explain and justify their political agendas by complementing hard power solutions with attractive ideas and discursive constructions that appeal to domestic constituencies and geopolitical allies The book is divided into two parts The first focuses on non state actors such as confessional communities and ideological movements who aim to develop narratives that are convincing to their respective polities It also studies regional powers that seek to determine their positions in a competitive environment via distinctive narrations of order In part two the authors investigate the narratives of global players that aim to explain and justify their role in an evolving international order

Scaled for Success Philip Hayward, 2018-07-26 Emerging from the confluence of Greco Roman mythology and regional folklore the mermaid has been an enduring motif in Western culture since the medieval period It has also been disseminated more widely initially through Western trade and colonisation and more recently through the increasing globalisation of media products and outlets Scaled for Success offers the first detailed overview of the mermaids dispersal outside Europe Complementing previous studies of the interrelationship between the mermaid and Mami Wata spirit in West Africa this volume addresses the mermaids presence in a range of Middle Eastern Asian Australian Latin American and North American contexts Individual chapters identify the manner in which the mermaid has been variously syncretised and or resignified in contexts as diverse as Indian public statuary Thai cinema and Coney Islands annual Mermaid Parade Rather than lingering as a relic of a bygone age the mermaid emerges as a versatile dynamic and above all polyvalent figure Her prominence exemplifies the manner in which contemporary media lore has extended the currency of established folkloric figures in new and often surprising ways Analysing aspects of religious symbolism visual art literature and contemporary popular culture this copiously illustrated volume profiles an intriguing and highly diverse phenomenon Philip Hayward is editor of the journal Shima and holds adjunct professor positions at the University of Technology Sydney and at Southern Cross University His previous volume Making a Splash Mermaids and Mermen in 20th and 21st Century Audiovisual Media was published by John Libbey Publishing Indiana University Press in 2017
