The System of Vienna Gert Jonke, 2009 The System of Vienna details Gert Janke's travels through Vienna by streetcar reporting the bizarre and frustrating encounters he experiences as he progresses and meanwhile moving not just from trolley stop to trolley stop but through life as well from innocence to disillusionment birth to death Ionke meets a paranoiac fish wholesaler who believes he is directing all of Austrian politics from his little stall a stamp collector in such deadly earnest he hopes to be appointed to a professorship in philately and a compulsive talker who has developed a rigorous economic philosophy out of the most common objects to be found in a Vienna neighborhood Slowly increasing the comic and fantastic elements in his story until they overwhelm all pretense to autobiography culminating in a strangely touching love scene between Ionke and a caryatid The System of Vienna reminds us that the very act of describing a life turns it into fiction Book Jacket

Musical Stimulacra Ivan Delazari, 2020-12-29 The title coinage of this book stimulacra refers to the fundamental capacity of literary narrative to stimulate our minds and senses by simulating things through words Musical stimulacra are passages of fiction that readers are empowered to transpose into mental simulations of music The book theorizes how fiction can generate musical experience explains what constitutes that experience and explores the musical dimensions of three American novels William T Vollmann's Europe Central 2005 William H Gass's Middle C 2013 and Richard Powers's Orfeo 2014 Musical Stimulacra approaches fiction's music from a readerly perspective Instead of looking at how novels forever fail to compensate for music's physical structural and affective properties the book concentrates on what literary narrative can do musically Negotiating common grounds for cognitive audionarratology and intermediality studies Musical Stimulacra builds its case on the assumption that among other things fiction urges us to listen to musical words and worlds
