Finding Laila Some Changes Are Necessary:

Locating Gender in Modernism Geetha Ramanathan, 2012-10-02 This book visits modernism within a comparative gendered and third world framework questioning current scholarly categorisations of modernism and reframing our conception of what constitutes modernist aesthetics It describes the construction of modernist studies and argues that despite a range of interventions which suggest that philosophical and material articulations with the third world shaped modernism an emphasis on modernist universals persists Ramanathan argues that women and third world authors have reshaped received notions of the modern and revised orthodox ideas on the modern aesthetic Authors such as Bessie Head Josiane Racine T Obinkaram Echewa Raja Rao Gabriel Garcia Marquez Sembene Ousmane Salman Rushdie Ana Castillo Attia Hossain Bapsi Sidhwa and Sahar Khalifeh are visited in their specific cultural contexts and use some form of realism a mode that western modernism relegates to the nineteenth century A comparative methodology and extensive research on intersecting topics such as post coloniality and the articulation between gender and modernist aesthetics facilitates readings of the modern in twentieth century literature that fall outside standards of western modernism Considering the relationship between aesthetics and ideology Ramanathan lays out a critical apparatus to enhance our understanding of the modern thus suggesting that form is not universal but that the history of forms like the history of colonialism and of women indicates very specific modalities of the modern

The Alpha King's Curse: Part Two L.G. Savage, 2024-04-14 Part 2 of The Alpha King's Curse It started with a curse For five years Jackson Jax King has known exactly when he will die With nothing to lose he earned his reputation as the most ruthless Alpha King Though his enemies are circling there is one thing he must do before he dies save his bloodline But even the Moon Goddess curses him because she gives him a half blood as his only hope Layla Carlisle A disrespectful greedy wolf less human Layla seizes the chance to save her sister from a life on the streets but at what cost From the moment she agrees to be a surrogate Jax turns her world upside down Why did Jax choose her when he and his strange friends can't stand her Can she fulfil her end of the bargain when it means abandoning her child just like her mother did As Layla spends more time in Jax's bed she realises nothing is as it seems Who is Jackson King and why does he know more about her mother than she does Thrown into a world of werewolf politics and dark desires can Layla and Jax survive the dangerous terrain to unravel the truth behind the curse and the fate of Jax's bloodline

Cultural, Social, and Political Perspectives in Science Education Kathrin Otrell-Cass, Martin Krabbe Sillasen, Auli Arvola Orlander, 2017-10-20. This book presents a collection of critical thinking that concerns cultural, social, and political issues for science education in the Nordic countries. The chapter authors describe specific scenarios to challenge persisting views, interrogate frameworks, and trouble contemporary approaches to researching teaching and learning in science. Taking a point of departure in empirical examples from the Nordic countries, the collection of work is taking a critical sideways glance at the Nordic education principles. Critical examinations target specifically those who are researching in the fields of science education research to question whether conventional research approaches, foci, and theoretical approaches are sufficient in a world of science education that is neither politically neutral nor free of cultural values. Attention is not only on the individual learner but on the cultural, social, and political conditions and contexts in science education. The different chapters review debates and research in teacher education, school teaching, and learning, including when external stakeholders are involved. Even though the chapters are contextualized in Nordic settings, there will be similarities and parallels that will be informative to the international science education research community.

Competition for Resources in a Changing World: New Drive for Rural Development Eric Tielkes, 2008. Thane Tebbet-Theus and the Chasing Dreams Iuliana Foos, 2021-07-21. Some dreams reflect reality; others, our deepest fears. Fate, miscommunication, and love separates them and reunites them when lives are in danger. On his twenty-third birthday, an undesired meeting with his nemesis leads Thane to discover the girl with lavender eyes chasing his dreams for the past seventeen years: Layla. She not only brings him more power than he could ever use, but she is the one breathing life into his existence. Layla, kidnapped as a child from her biological parents, is adopted and raised by a family of bounty hunters. Years later, with the deaths of her new family, she is sold and resold into slavery. Images of a man with silver hair and golden eyes follow her in never-ending nightmares. But when reality proves that the man from her dreams is, in fact, the man of her dreams, fear is quickly replaced by trust and something more. Miscommunication settles between Thane and Layla, forcing their paths to split once again. How much will both be willing to sacrifice to save each other when old enemies wield the threat of death back into their lives? Nothing or Everything. This is a sweet, closed-door romance for ages 14.

The Search for Lasting Peace Rosalind Boyd, 2016-02-17. Presenting the human security agenda as a policy response to the changing nature of violent conflicts and war, this collection traces its evolution in relation to conflicts in different contexts: Burma, India, Palestine, Canada, East Timor, Guatemala, Peru, and African countries, and from the perspective of gender, addresses initiatives for peace with justice. Cases are analysed when the human security agenda, including UNSC resolution 1325, was in its initial phase and point to both the weakness of the concept and the unexpected direction it has taken These discussions always relevant are more urgent than ever as gender based violence against women has increased resulting in new UNSC resolutions Some chapters suggest that militarism and economic globalization must be directly confronted Many of the contributors to the volume bridge the gap between academic research and activism as scholar activists with an engaged connection to the situations they are describing Human security remains an active component of policy and academic debates in security studies women s and gender studies development studies history and political economy as well as within NGO communities This rich collection fills a needed gap in the literature and it does so in a language and style that is clear accessible and reader friendly Beguiled
