Fire and Rescue Service Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Communities and Local Government Committee, 2006-07-12. The Government detailed its plans to reform and modernise the Fire and Rescue Service (FRS) in its White Paper Cm 5808 ISBN 0101580827 published in June 2003 and these subsequently became law under the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004. The Committee's report examines the progress made to implement this challenging reform programme following on from a previous report by its predecessor Committee HCP 43 I session 2003-04 ISBN 0215014936 published in January 2004. The Committee has focused on a number of key issues including the impact of the introduction of regional control centres and new FireLink radio services, fire prevention and risk assessment, governance and funding arrangements, staffing issues and policies to promote diversity within the FRS, performance measurement and management and progress on joint working approaches between the FRS and other emergency services. Findings include the unprecedented changes being implemented represent a positive change in emphasis for the FRS to a more proactive role in fire prevention and risk management; the Government needs to make a stronger business case to convince and reassure the FRS that the project to create nine regional control centres called the FiReControl model will bring enhanced resilience and efficiency; and that the Government should ensure the new FireLink radio project includes the fire ground technological upgrade.

Reducing the costs for procuring fire and rescue service vehicles and specialist equipment Great Britain: National Audit Office, 2010-07-23. Firebuy, a specialist body established by the Department for Communities and Local Government to support procurement of kit by Fire and Rescue Services, has cost nearly twice as much to set up and run as the total savings it claims to have.

delivered Without the power to make local Fire and Rescue Services use its national procurement contracts Firebuy has had to rely on persuasion Progress has therefore been slow with only five out of the 14 framework contracts it has set up being used by more than half Fire and Rescue Services to purchase equipment Most of the contracts allow suppliers to offer many variations of the same types of equipment allowing Fire and Rescue Services to procure expensive bespoke equipment and preventing suppliers offering lower prices through high volume orders The approach to measuring savings achieved by Firebuy is inadequate and the information that the estimated savings are based on is mostly unreliable The Department expected Firebuy to be self financing by its third year of operation 2008 09 but it is still heavily reliant on grants from the Department Firebuy is expensive to run with overheads between five per cent and 10 per cent higher than the industry norm The Department has not shown enough leadership direction or oversight of Firebuy to ensure it achieved its original objectives most of which were not monitored only 29 of 66 targets were monitored and many were not met New Dimension, Enhancing the Fire and Rescue Services' Capacity to Respond to Terrorist and Other Large-scale Incidents Great Britain. National Audit Office,2008 The 330 million New Dimension programme has enhanced the 46 English Fire and Rescue Services capacity to respond to terrorist attacks and other catastrophic incidents such as major flooding But better value for money could have been secured in the procurement of the specialist vehicles and equipment The programme was introduced following the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 It involved procuring specialist vehicles and equipment training 10 000 fire fighters and helping to prepare Fire and Rescue Services to tackle terrorist and other major incidents The equipment has already been used successfully at three major incidents to date the Buncefield fire the 2007 summer floods and at the Warwickshire warehouse collapse in November 2007 Funding uncertainty and poor programme project and financial management in the early days of the project resulted in delays in introducing the equipment and significant cost overruns A fraud of 867 200 within the programme remained undetected for 9 months and in procuring one vehicle type for example poor contracting and record keeping resulted in a delay of a year and unnecessary costs of between 3 and 8 million Improvements in programme and financial management have since been made But more still needs to be done to address weaknesses which might hamper future incident response In particular the department need to address uncertainties over the respective roles of national co ordinating bodies and develop a strategy for national and regional multi agency practice exercises New Dimension - Enhancing the Fire and Rescue Services' Capacity to Respond to Terrorist and Other Large-scale Incidents Great Britain.
