M. Lemos,2010-03-31 In Marriage Gifts and Social Change in Ancient Palestine T M Lemos traces changes in the marriage customs of ancient Palestine over the course of several hundred years The most important of these changes was a shift in emphasis from bridewealth to dowry the latter of which clearly predominated in the Hellenistic and Roman periods Whereas previous scholarship has often attributed these shifts to the influence of foreign groups Lemos connects them instead with a transformation that occurred in Palestine s social structure during the very same period In the early Iron Age Israel was a kinship based society with a subsistence economy but as the centuries passed it became increasingly complex and developed marked divisions between rich and poor At the same time the importance of its kinship groups waned greatly Utilizing an interdisciplinary approach that draws heavily on anthropological research cultural theory archaeological evidence and historical critical methods Lemos posits that shifts in marriage customs were directly related to these wider social changes Gift of Light C.L. Miraculous Gifts Thomas R. Edgar,2001-07-25 Miraculous Gifts is a discussion of spiritual gifts in light of the basic differences between cessationalism and Pentecostalism Many studies of this issue are written from a primarily theological perspective and while theological arguments are valid charismatics assert that this controversy concerns biblical gifts and miracles and is therefore a matter of faith to believe their claims with theological arguments proving unsatisfactory The fundamental question is Is this what the Bible discusses is it biblical Miraculous Gifts attempts to answer that question by providing a biblically based analysis of spiritual gifts in view of the charismatic controversy
