ROLE OF ARCHAEOLOGY

What is the importance of archaeology?

Archaeologists are important in historiography because they study artifacts. These human-made objects help historians understand how people from the past lived and developed. Artifacts also explain how the people were affected by their environment.

Archaeologists often work together with scientists from other areas—such as linguistics, genetics, and physics—to better understand what they find. Scientists of different fields use different tools and have different perspectives. The scientists will also criticize other scientists' discoveries and how each others' ideas are interpreted.

2. Why is it good for archaeologists to work with other scientists?

FLEXIBLE HISTORY

Why is history being written and rewritten?

What is in history books today might change tomorrow. Historians understand the past using the artifacts and information available. They also might have certain feelings, or biases, based on where they live, when they were alive, what they were taught in school, and their personal opinions toward the information.

History is constantly being written and rewritten. When a new discovery is made, historians review and update their theories.

Imagine archaeologists who find artifacts with strange writing on it. Over time historians and linguists learn more about the language and can understand what the writing means. This helps them understand the civilization that used the artifact. This was the case with understanding the Mayan civilization.

Another example is a discovery made in Tanzania, Africa. In 1960 scientists found a humanlike fossil. This human walked on two feet like humans today do. Humans or creatures that walk upright are called hominids. The scientists used the fossil to explain the tools early humans made to survive. Hominid fossils have been found around the world since then. Each time, scientists learn more about early humans and update their theories.

3. What did hominid fossils help scientists explain?

Love and Faith sets out to inspire people to think more deeply both about what it means to be human and to live in love and faith with one another. It tackles the tough questions and the divisions among Christians about what it means to be holy in a society in which understandings and practices of gender, sexuality and marriage continue to change. Commissioned and led by the Bishops of the Church of England, the Living in Love and Faith project has involved many people across the Church and beyond, bringing together a great diversity and depth of expertise, conviction and experience to explore these matters by studying what the Bible, theology, history and the social and biological sciences have to say. After a Foreword from the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, the book opens with an invitation from the Bishops of the Church of England to embark on a learning journey in five parts. Part One sets current questions about human identity, sexuality, relationships and marriage in the context of God's gift of life. Part Two takes a careful and dispassionate look at what is happening in the world with regard to identity, sexuality, relationships and marriage. Part Three explores current Christian thinking and discussions about human identity, sexuality and marriage in the light of the good news of Jesus Christ: how do Christians understand and respond to the trends observed in Part Two? Part Four considers what it means for us as individuals and as a church to be Christ-like when it comes to matters of identity, sexuality, relationships and marriage. Part Five invites the reader into a conversation between some of the people who have been involved in writing this book, who, having engaged with and written Parts One to Four, nevertheless come to different conclusions. Amid the biblical, theological, historical and scientific exploration, each part includes Encounters with real contemporary disciples of Christ whose stories raise questions which ask us to discern where God is active in human lives. The book ends with an appeal from the Bishops to join them in a period of discernment and decision-making following the publication of Living in Love and Faith. The Living in Love and Faith book is accompanied by a range of free digital resources, including films, podcasts and an online library, together with Living in Love and Faith: The Course, a 5-session course which is designed to help local groups engage with the resources also published by Church House Publishing.

Why Learn History (When It's Already on Your Phone) Sam Wineburg, 2018-09-17. A look at how to teach history in the age of easily accessible but not always reliable information. Let's start with two truths about our era that are so inescapable as to have become clichés: We are surrounded by more readily available information than ever before. And a huge percent of it is inaccurate. Some of the bad info is well-meaning but ignorant. Some of it is deliberately deceptive. All of it is pernicious. With the Internet at our fingertips, what's a teacher of history to do? In Why Learn History (When It's Already on Your Phone), professor Sam Wineburg has the answers, beginning with this: We can't stick to the same old read-the-chapter-answer-the-question snoozefest. If we want to educate citizens who can separate fact from fake, we have to equip them with new tools.

Historical thinking Wineburg shows has nothing to do with the ability to memorize facts Instead it s an orientation to the world that cultivates reasoned skepticism and counters our tendency to confirm our biases Wineburg lays out a mine filled landscape but one that with care attention and awareness we can learn to navigate The future of the past may rest on our screens But its fate rests in our hands Praise for Why Learn History When It s Already on Your Phone If every K 12 teacher of history and social studies read just three chapters of this book Crazy for History Changing History One Classroom at a Time and Why Google Can t Save Us the ensuing transformation of our populace would save our democracy James W Lowen author of Lies My Teacher Told Me and Teaching What Really Happened A sobering and urgent report from the leading expert on how American history is taught in the nation s schools A bracing edifying and vital book Jill Lepore New Yorker staff writer and author of These Truths Wineburg is a true innovator who has thought more deeply about the relevance of history to the Internet and vice versa than any other scholar I know Anyone interested in the uses and abuses of history today has a duty to read this book Niall Ferguson senior fellow Hoover Institution and author of The Ascent of Money and Civilization The Outline of Knowledge: The history of the world, by A.
