Hybrid User Guide Cars Stats:

Who's Driving Electric Cars Marcello Contestabile, Gil Tal, Thomas Turrentine, 2020-03-17 This book offers a comprehensive yet accessible snapshot of the latest consumer research on the adoption and use of electric vehicles. It discusses the importance of developing a better understanding of consumer behavior in relation to electric vehicles and the advantages that can be gained from the growing number of electric vehicle users who can now be studied directly. In turn, it systematically analyzes the leading markets for electric vehicles in North America, Europe, and Asia. Bringing together the experience and expertise of authoritative researchers and practicing professionals, the book shares a wide range of empirical data obtained at the national level and summarizes the general lessons learned. The last part of the book discusses policy-relevant insights, forecasts the future evolution of the field in terms of methods and data availability, and addresses several key questions that policymakers and other stakeholders are currently facing. Government Publications, 1996 Monetary and Financial Statistics Manual and Compilation Guide Mr. Jose M. Cartas, Artak Harutyunyan, 2017-11-09 This edition of Monetary and Financial Statistics Manual and Compilation Guide Manual updates and merges into one volume methodological and practical aspects of the compilation process of monetary statistics. The Manual is aimed at compilers and users of monetary data, offering guidance for the collection and analytical presentation of monetary statistics. The Manual includes standardized report forms providing countries with a tool for compiling and reporting harmonized data for the central bank, other depository corporations, and other financial corporations.

Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents, 1993-12 Behaviour of Lithium-Ion Batteries in Electric Vehicles Gianfranco Pistoia, Boryann Liaw, 2018-02-10 This book surveys state-of-the-art research on and developments in lithium-ion batteries for hybrid and electric vehicles. It summarizes their features in terms of performance, cost, service life, management, charging facilities, and safety. Vehicle electrification is now commonly accepted as a means of reducing fossil-fuel consumption and air pollution. At present, every electric vehicle on the road is powered by a lithium-ion battery. Currently, batteries based on lithium-ion technology are ranked first in terms of performance, reliability, and safety. Though other systems, e.g., metal-air, lithium-sulphur, solid-state, and aluminium-ion, are now being investigated, the lithium-ion system is likely to dominate for at least the next decade, which is why several manufacturers, e.g., Toyota, Nissan, and Tesla, are chiefly focusing on this technology. Providing comprehensive information on lithium-ion batteries, the book includes contributions by the world's leading experts on Li-ion batteries and vehicles. Energy Research Abstracts, 1989

Overcoming Barriers to Deployment of Plug-in Electric Vehicles National Research Council, Transportation Research Board, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Energy and Environmental Systems, Committee on Overcoming Barriers to Electric-Vehicle Deployment, 2015-06-26 In the past few years, interest in plug-in electric vehicles (PEVs) has grown. Advances in battery and other technologies, new federal standards for carbon dioxide emissions, and fuel economy state zero emission vehicle requirements and the current administration's goal of putting millions of alternative fuel vehicles on the road have all highlighted PEVs as a transportation alternative. Consumers are also beginning to recognize the advantages of PEVs over conventional vehicles such as lower operating costs, smoother operation and better acceleration, the ability to fuel up at home and zero tailpipe emissions when the vehicle operates solely on its battery. There are, however, barriers to PEV deployment including the vehicle cost, the short all electric driving range, the long battery charging time, uncertainties about battery life, the few choices of vehicle models and the need for a charging infrastructure to support PEVs. What should industry do to improve the performance of PEVs and make them more attractive to consumers? At the request of Congress, Overcoming Barriers to Deployment of Plug in Electric Vehicles identifies barriers to the introduction of electric vehicles and recommends ways to mitigate these barriers. This report examines the characteristics and capabilities of electric vehicle technologies such as cost, performance, range, safety and durability and assesses how these factors might create barriers to widespread deployment. Overcoming Barriers to Deployment of Plug in Electric Vehicles provides an overview of the current status of PEVs and makes recommendations to spur the industry and increase the attractiveness of this promising technology for consumers. Through consideration of consumer behaviors, tax incentives, business models, incentive programs and infrastructure needs, this book studies the state of the industry and makes recommendations to further its development and acceptance.

The Governance of Smart Transportation Systems Matthias Finger, Maxime Audouin, 2018-08-22. This book presents essential new governance structures to embrace and regulate smart mobility modes. Drawing on a range of case studies, it paves the way for new approaches to governing future transportation systems. Over the past decades, Information and Communication Technologies have enabled the development of new mobility solutions that have completely redefined traditional and well established urban transportation systems. Urban transportation systems are evolving dramatically from the development of shared mobility modes to the advent of electric mobility and from the automated mobility trend to the rapid spread of integrated transportation schemes. Given the disruptive nature of those new mobility solutions, new governance structures are needed. Through a series of case studies from around the world, this book highlights governance and regulatory processes having supported or sometimes prevented the development and implementation of smart mobility solutions: shared, automated, electric, integrated. The combination of chapters offers a comprehensive overview of the different research endeavours focusing on the governance of smart transportation systems and will help pave the way for this important subject which is crucial for the future of cities.

Everyday Lifestyles and Sustainability Fabricio Chicca, Brenda Vale, Robert Vale, 2018-04-09

The impact of humanity on the earth overshoots the earth's bio capacity to supply humanity's needs meaning that people are living off earth's capital rather than its income. However, not all countries are equal and this book explores why apparently similar patterns of daily living can lead to larger and smaller environmental impacts. The contributors describe daily life in many different places in the world and then calculate the environmental impact of these ways of living from the perspective of ecological and carbon footprints. This leads to comparison and discussion of what living within the limits of the planet might mean. Current footprints for countries are derived from national statistics and these hide the variety of impacts made by individual people and the choices they make in their daily lives. This book takes a bottom up approach by calculating the footprints of daily living. The purpose is to show that small changes in behaviour now could avoid some very challenging problems in the future. Offering a global perspective on the question of sustainable living, this book will be of great interest to anyone with a concern for the future as well as students and researchers in environmental studies, human geography and development studies.

Competitiveness and Private Sector Development Competitiveness in South East Europe

2021 A Policy Outlook OECD, 2021-07-05 The future sustainable economic development and well being of citizens in South East Europe depend on greater economic competitiveness. Reinforcing the region's economic potential in a post COVID 19 context requires a holistic inclusive and growth oriented approach to policy making.

AI-Based Optimized Design of Structural Frames Won-Kee Hong, 2024-10-16 This book introduces an auto design based optimization for building frames using an artificial neural network ANN based Lagrange method and novel genetic algorithm GA. The work of great mathematician Joseph Louis Lagrange and ANNs are merged to identify parameters that optimize structural frames of reinforced concrete prestressed concrete and steel frames subject to one or more design constraints. New features for enhancing conventional GA are also demonstrated to optimize structural frames. New features for optimizing multiple design targets of the building frames are highlighted while design requirements imposed by codes are automatically satisfied. Chapters provide readers with an understanding of how both ANN based and novel GA based structural optimization can be implemented in holistically optimizing designated design targets for building structural frames, guiding readers toward more rational designs that is consistent with American Institute of Steel Construction AISC and American Concrete Institute ACI standards. ANN based holistic designs of multi story frames in general and reinforced concrete prestressed concrete and steel frames in particular are introduced. This book suits structural engineers, architects and graduate students in the field of building frame designs and is heavily illustrated with color figures and tables.
