addressing an open question of V zquez and V ron Failure Up Close Jay P. Greene, Michael Q. McShane, 2018-01-17 For many reasons failure in education reform is rarely admitted Even though it is incredibly hard work to try and improve the enormous and diverse American education system because there are political consequences of admitting that a particular effort did not live up to its promises and pressure from philanthropic funders to show success unsuccessful efforts are often swept under the rug or papered over with public relations efforts that avoid wrestling with the tough realities of educational improvement This doesn't help anyone As any educator will tell you failure is an essential part of learning Insofar as education reform needs to be a learning movement itself it has to be able to admit where it has failed and learn from it Failure Up Close engages a select group of scholars from across the ideological spectrum to examine particular education reform efforts of recent years that have not succeeded and offer lessons for school and system improvement that can be learned from them Rather than view failure as negative this volume looks at failure as an opportunity to learn and grow In fact the editors endeavored to find authors that would analyze reforms for which they had some fundamental sympathy The goal is not to bash particular efforts or castigate their supporters but rather to help those supporters understand how to do what they do better and ultimately do better for children

The Emergence of Geophysics: A Journey into the Twentieth Century R.J. Howarth, 2024-12-02 How did geophysics begin Who were the pioneers of this new science What instruments did they devise to measure the Earth related phenomena they were interested in This Memoir attempts to answer such questions in a well illustrated and largely non technical account The seventeenth century saw magnetism used as an aid to prospecting for iron ore in Sweden and Isaac Newton's derivation of the law of gravitational attraction A gradually increasing interest in physics of the Earth brought forth the new discipline of geophysics in the early nineteenth century and by the end of the following century airborne and satellite based investigations had become routine The Emergence of Geophysics explores this evolution in several parallel strands terrestrial magnetism and electricity gravity seismicity heat geodynamics and radioactivity broadly reflecting the timing of their introduction as tools aiding geophysical studies Biographical information is included for many of its practitioners and the book should be of interest to both geophysicists and to anyone interested in the history of Earth science

Integer Programming and Related Areas C. Kastning, 2013-11-11 Integer Programming is one of the most fascinating and difficult areas in the field of Mathematical Optimization Due to this fact notable research contributions to Integer Programming have been made in very different branches of mathematics and its applications Since these publications are scattered over many journals proceedings volumes monographs and working papers a comprehensive bibliography of all these sources is a helpful tool even for specialists in this field I initiated this compilation of literature in 1970 at the Institut für Konometrie und Operations Research University of Bonn Since then many collaborators have contributed to and worked on it Among them Dipl Math Claus Kastning has done the bulk of the work With great perseverance and diligence he has gathered all the material and checked it with the original sources The main aim was to incorporate rare and not easily accessible sources like Russian journals preprints or unpublished papers Without the invaluable and dedicated engagement of Claus Kastning the bibliography would never have reached this final version For this reason he must be considered its responsible editor As with any other collection this literature list has a subjective viewpoint and may be in some sense incomplete We have however tried to be as complete as possible The bibliography contains 4704 different publications by 6767 authors which were classified by 11839 descriptor entries
