National Institutes of Health (U.S.), Medical Research for Hire Jill A. Fisher, 2008-11-06 Today more than 75 percent of pharmaceutical drug trials in the United States are being conducted in the private sector Once the sole province of academic researchers these important studies are now being outsourced to non academic physicians According to Jill A Fisher this major change in the way medical research is performed is the outcome of two problems in U S health care decreasing revenue for physicians and decreasing access to treatment for patients As physicians report diminishing income due to restrictive relationships with insurers increasing malpractice insurance premiums and inflated overhead costs to operate private practices they are attracted to pharmaceutical contract research for its lucrative return Clinical trials also provide limited medical access to individuals who have no or inadequate health insurance because they offer free doctors visits diagnostic tests and medications to participants Focusing on the professional roles of those involved as well as key research practices Fisher assesses the risks and advantages for physicians and patients alike when pharmaceutical drug studies are used as an alternative to standard medical care A volume in the Critical Issues in Health and Medicine series edited by Rima D Apple and Janet Golden Clinical Trials Design in Operative and Non Operative Invasive Procedures Kamal M.F.

Itani, Domenic J. Reda, 2017-05-16 The aim of this text is to provide the framework for building a clinical trial as it pertains to operative and non operative invasive procedures how to get it funded and how to conduct such a trial up to publication of results The text provides all details of building a scientifically and ethically valid proposal including how to build the infrastructure for a clinical trial and how to move it forward through various funding agencies The text also presents various types of clinical trials the use of implantable devices and FDA requirements and adjuncts to clinical trials and interaction with industry Clinical Trials Design in Invasive Operative and Non Operative Procedures will be of interest to all specialists of surgery anesthesiologists interventional radiologists gastroenterologists cardiologists and pulmonologists Publication

,1987 Doing Research in Emergency and Acute Care Michael P. Wilson, Kama Z. Guluma, Stephen R. Hayden, 2016-03-02

A practical guide to understanding and navigating the unique challenges faced by physicians and other professionals who wish to undertake research in the ED or other acute care setting Focusing on the hyper acute and acute care environment and fulfilling two closely related needs 1 the need for even seasoned researchers to understand the specific logistics and issues of doing research in the ED and 2 the need to educate clinically active physicians in research methodology This new text is not designed to be a complex encyclopedic resource but instead a concise easy to read resource designed to convey key need to know information within a comprehensive framework Aimed at the busy brain either as a sit down read or as a selectively read reference guide to fill in knowledge gaps chapters are short compartmentalized and are used strategically throughout the text in order to introduce and frame concepts This format makes it easy and even entertaining for the research novice to integrate and absorb completely new and typically dry material The textbook addresses aspects of feasibility efficiency ethics statistics safety logistics and collaboration in acute research Overall it grants access for the seasoned researcher seeking to learn about acute research to empathically integrate learning points into his or her knowledge base As the ED is the primary setting for hyper acute and acute care and therefore a prime site for related clinical trial recruitment and interventions the book presents specific logistical research challenges that researchers from any discipline including physicians research nurse coordinators study monitors or industry partners need to understand in order to succeed

both in the public and private sectors The Review recommends that the Government should seek to achieve better coordination of health research and more coherent funding arrangements to support translation by establishing an Office for Strategic Coordination of Health Research OSCHR      Competition in the Health Services Market United States.
