Social Work in Social Change Nicci Earle,2008 This study forms part of a series of studies on professions and professional education being conducted by the HSRC s research programme on Education Science Skills Development It follows a pilot study on medical doctors published in 2006 entitled Doctors in a Divided Society The profession and education of medical practitioners in South Africa Like the other studies in the series this study involved developing an understanding of the professional milieu and professional labour market of social workers As the implementers of government social policy social work professionals have been at the forefront of grappling with the practicalities of the changes in focus approach and methods of social security and social service delivery since 1994 It examines developments in the education and training of social workers within the democratic dispensation the most significant of which is the development of a national standardised Bachelor of Social Work degree The study also reveals that the dominant profile in student enrolment and graduation statistics has changed from white female to African female and that enrolment has increased significantly However the study also shows that graduation trends have been negative and losses due to emigration are an additional concern Given the scarcity of these professionals against the demand for their services understanding the factors that contribute to this picture are critical to effective intervention

Conjoined Twins Christine Quigley, 2015-09-17 When two human ova fail to fully separate during pregnancy the result is conjoined twins The twins may be connected by ligament bone or just flesh and they often share organs but what captures most people's interest is whether the twins share sensations thoughts and even souls This encyclopedia presents entries on conjoined twins throughout history the biological causes and effects of twins being born conjoined and ethical issues such as self support and separation surgery It also includes entries on the modern standardized terminology used when discussing conjoined twins the categories into which conjoined twins have been sorted doctors past and present who have performed separation surgeries and hospitals such as Children's Hospital of Philadelphia that are known for the separation of conjoined twins This book even covers fraudulent conjoined twins and fictional ones in books written by such authors as Mark Twain Vladimir Nabokov and Katherine Dunn Other entries cover relevant films websites and institutions

A Social History of the University Presses in Apartheid South Africa Elizabeth Le Roux, 2015-10-14 In A History of the University Presses in Apartheid South Africa Elizabeth le Roux examines scholarly publishing history academic freedom and knowledge production during the apartheid era Using archival materials comprehensive bibliographies and political sociology theory this work analyses the origins publishing lists and philosophies of the university presses The university presses are often associated with anti apartheid publishing and the promotion of academic freedom but this work reveals both greater complicity and complexity Elizabeth le Roux demonstrates that the university presses cannot be considered oppositional because they did not resist censorship and because they operated within the constraints of the higher education system but their publishing strategies became more liberal over time

Leading for Change Jonathan Jansen, 2015-08-14 This book offers new theoretical ground for thinking about and transforming leadership and higher education worldwide Through an examination of the construct of intimacy and nearness including emotional spiritual psychic intellectual and physical closeness Jonathan Jansen demonstrates its power to influence positive leadership in young people He argues that sensory leadership which includes but extends beyond the power of touch represents a fresh and effective approach to progressive transformation of long divided institutions Considering richly textured narratives chapters explore complex intimacies among Black and White university students in South Africa post apartheid and in the aftermath of a major racial atrocity The stories reveal the students transformation in the process of leadership for change interweaving concepts of racism human relationships and intimacy and in turn expanding the knowledge base of social and institutional improvement This book explores how when different kinds of nearness come together in leadership change young people respond in ways that would not be possible through conventional instruments such as policy legislation and the appeal to moral sensibilities alone Leading for Change will be critical reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education educational justice higher education educational leadership and change social and or racial justice This book will also be of interest to those working in the fields of anthropology social psychology and South African contemporary politics policy and institutional practices Breaking a Rainbow, Building a Nation Rekgotsofetse Chikane,2018-10-01

Breaking a Rainbow Building a Nation is a first hand account of the university protests that gripped South Africa between 2015 and 2017 widely better known as the FeesMustFall Chikane outlines the nature of student politics in the country before during and after the emergence of MustFall politics exploring the political dynamics that informed and drove the student protests and the effect that these MustFall movements have had on the nature of youth politics in the country Chikane looks at how the current nature of youth politics is different from previous youth upheavals that have defined South Africa specifically due to the fact that the protests were being led by so called coconuts who are part of the black elite Breaking a Rainbow Building a Nation poses the provocative question can coconuts be trusted with the revolution In the Event Lotte Meinert,Bruce Kapferer,2015-05-01 Events are generative moments in at least three senses events are created by and condense larger scale social structures as moments they spark and give rise to new social processes in themselves events may also serve to analyze social situations and relationships Based on ethnographic studies from around the world varying from rituals and meetings over protests and conflicts to natural disasters and management this volume analyzes generative moments through events that hold the key to understanding larger social situations These events including the Ashura ritual in Bahrain social cleavages in South Africa a Buddhist cave in Nepal drought in Burkina Faso an earthquake in Pakistan the cartoon crisis in Denmark corporate management at Bang Olufsen protest meetings in Europe and flooding and urban citizenship in Mozambique are not simply destructive disasters crises and conflicts but also generative and constitutive of the social

Mergers and Alliances in Higher Education Adrian Curaj,Luke Georghiou,Jennifer Cassingena Harper,Eva Egron-Polak,2015-03-31 This volume casts light on mergers and alliances in higher education by examining developments of this type in different countries It combines the direct experiences of those at the heart of such transformations university leaders and senior officials responsible for higher education policy with expert analysts of the systems concerned Higher education in Europe faces a series of major challenges The economic crisis has accelerated expectations of an increased role in addressing economic and societal challenges while at the same time putting pressure on available finances Broader trends such as shifting student demographics and expectations globalisation and mobility and new ways of working with business have contributed to these increased pressures In the light of these trends there have been moves both from national or regional agencies and from individual institutions to respond by combining resources either through collaborative arrangements or more fundamentally through mergers between two or more universities After an introductory chapter by the editors which establishes the context for mergers and alliances the book falls into two main parts Part 1 takes a national or regional perspective to give some sense of the historical context the wider drivers and the importance of these developments in these cases Included are both systemic accounts for countries as France Sweden Romania Russia Wales and England and specific cross cutting initiatives including a major facility at Magurele in Romania and a Spanish programme for promoting international campuses of excellence Part 2 is built from specific cases of universities either in mergers or alliances with examples from different countries such as France UK Romania Spain Germany Denmark Finland Switzerland A concluding chapter by the editors assesses these experiences and indicates the implications and future needs for understanding in this domain
