prevention and control Type-Based Flood Statistics Svenja Fischer, Andreas H. Schumann, 2023-09-13 This book summarises for the first time all relevant methodologies for type based flood statistics introduces the basis of flood typology and makes them accessible to the user Flood types improve the understanding of the flood generating processes and characterise the flood event in terms of its features such as peak volume and hydrograph shape In addition they can also significantly expand the information used in flood statistics and add valuable flood characteristics to the determination of design floods especially the determination of flood scenarios relevant for reservoir management A detailed framework with all aspects of point and spatial statistics as well as regionalisation is presented and examples illustrate the benefit of the proposed methodology The target audience is both users in associations and engineering offices as type based statistics are increasingly becoming part of the specifications and researchers as this is a current field of research Money By Fiat Dean Bonkovich, 2016-04-23 Using the British U S and New Zealand monetary systems and the Bank for International Settlements among others to describe the operations of every central bank throughout the world Money by Fiat explains the dangers of fiat money not only in terms of these four entities but also in terms of every fiat currency that has ever existed Beginning from 1694 and the incorporation of the Bank of England and then moving into the modern age Money By Fiat delves into the world of the biggest theft in human history Place, Identity, and National Imagination in Post-war Taiwan Bi-yu Chang, 2015-03-24 In the struggles for political and cultural hegemony that Taiwan has witnessed since the 1980s the focal point in contesting narratives and the key battlefield in the political debates are primarily spatial and place based The major fault line appears to be a split between an imposed identity emphasizing cultural origin China and an emphasis on the recovery of place identity of the local Taiwan Place Identity and National Imagination in Postwar Taiwan explores the ever present issue of identity in Taiwan from a spatial perspective and focuses on the importance of and the relationship between state spatiality and identity formation Taking postwar Taiwan as a case study the book examines the ways in which the Kuomintang regime naturalized its political control territorialized the island and created a nationalist geography In so doing it examines how why and to what extent power is exercised through the place making process and considers the relationship between official versions of ROC geography and the islanders shifting perceptions of the nation In turn by addressing the relationship between the state and the imagined community Bi yu Chang establishes a dialogue between place and cultural identity to analyse the constant changing and shaping of Chinese and Taiwanese identity With a diverse selection of case studies including cartographical development geography education territorial declaration and urban planning this interdisciplinary book will have a broad appeal across Taiwan studies geography cultural studies history and politics Renewable Energy in Marine Environment Eugen Rusu, 2020-03-25 The effects of human caused global warming are obvious requiring new strategies and approaches The concept of business as usual is now no longer beneficial Extraction of renewable energy in marine environments represents a viable solution and an important path for the future These huge renewable energy resources in seas and oceans can be harvested including wind tide and waves Despite the initial difficulties related mostly to the elevated operational risks in the harsh marine environment newly developed technologies are economically effective or promising Simultaneously many challenges remain to be faced These are the main issues targeted by the present book which is associated with the Special Issue of Energies Journal entitled Renewable Energy in Marine Environment Papers on innovative technical developments reviews case studies and analytics as well as assessments and papers from different disciplines that are relevant to the topic are included From this perspective we hope that the results presented are of interest to for scientists and those in related fields such as energy and marine environments as well as for a wider audience Democracy at Work in Malaysia (UUM Press) Mohd Azizuddin Mohd Sani,Ummu Atiyah Ahmad

Zakuan,2017-01-01 The prediction is that the 14th General Election 14thGE is coming earlier than when it should be as early as March 2017 instead of May 2018 On the one hand with the DAP led opposition in disarray for the last 18 months since the departure of PAS and on the other the UMNO led BN becoming more resolved and combative the events leading to the forthcoming election promises more fireworks The complexity of facts fictions perceptions and perspectives in making sense of the forthcoming 14thGE are intricate The present book Democracy at Work edited by Prof Azizuddin and Dr Ummu Atiyah of Universiti Utara Malaysia UUM provides an essential critical backdrop to build an informed understanding of what to expect from the 14thGE based on the 13 chapters of the book on the highly confusing but sometimes entertaining 13thGE An added bonus is that the chapters are written not by the usual crop of opinionated tired scholars but largely a fresh crop of serious and bright ones The book is a must read for Malaysianists who enjoy talking studying and making opinions on the ever complicated Malaysian politics beyond the ambit of the mamak shops Transnational Generations in the Arab

Gulf States and Beyond Kyoko Matsukawa,Akiko Watanabe,Zahra R. Babar,2023-12-01 This book examines the recent migration phenomenon in the Arab Gulf states for work and residence It sheds light on the transnationality of diverse groups of migrants from different generations and unpacks how migrants multiple senses of belonging orientations and adaptive strategies have shaped contemporary migration in the Gulf region In turn the analysis presented here shows how the Arab Gulf states citizenship and educational policies affect second generation migrants in particular Through a series of fine grained ethnographic case studies the authors demonstrate the ways in which these second generation migrants construct their identities in relation to their putative home country in the Gulf as well as their complex relationship to their parents countries of origin This is what underpins the deeply transnational character of their lives choices and notions of belonging While migration scholars often situate these groups as temporary this does not in fact capture the reality of temporariness for the migrants themselves their children or their dependants The result is a complex and ongoing construction of identity that shapes the way of life for millions of migrants Relevant to scholars of migration and international studies particularly focused on the Middle East Transnational Generations in the Arab Gulf States and Beyond is also of interest to social scientists researching student mobility in higher education intergenerational families identity politics and globalisation

Power Transition in Asia David Walton,Emilian Kavalski,2016-08-12 Current preoccupations with the rise of Asia attest to the nascent contestation of the very idea of what the pattern of international politics should look like and how it should be practiced In this respect the growing reference to a shift to the East in global politics has become a popular shorthand for the nascent power transition in world affairs This volume offers a detailed conceptual and empirical investigation of the dynamics of power transition in Asia and details the accommodation strategies and coping mechanisms of different small and middle powers in Asia and importantly China s responses to these approaches

Chemical Energy from Natural and Synthetic Gas Yatish T. Shah,2017-03-16 Commercial development of energy from renewables and nuclear is critical to long term industry and environmental goals However it will take time for them to economically compete with existing fossil fuel energy resources and their infrastructures Gas fuels play an important role during and beyond this transition away from fossil fuel dominance to a balanced approach to fossil nuclear and renewable energies Chemical Energy from Natural and Synthetic Gas illustrates this point by examining the many roles of natural and synthetic gas in the energy and fuel industry addressing it as both a transition and end game fuel The book describes various types of gaseous fuels and how are they are recovered purified and converted to liquid fuels and electricity generation and used for other static and mobile applications It emphasizes methane syngas and hydrogen as fuels although other volatile hydrocarbons are considered It also covers storage and transportation infrastructure for natural gas and hydrogen and methods and processes for cleaning and reforming synthetic gas The book also deals applications such as the use of natural gas in power production in power plants engines turbines and vehicle needs Presents a unified and collective look at gas in the energy and fuel industry addressing it as both a transition and end game fuel Emphasizes methane syngas and hydrogen as fuels Covers gas storage and transport infrastructure Discusses thermal gasification gas reforming processing purification and upgrading Describes biogas and bio hydrogen production Deals with the use of natural gas in power production in power plants engines turbines and vehicle needs
