Debates in Music Teaching Chris Philpott, Gary Spruce, 2025-08-01 Debates in Music Teaching encourages both graduate and postgraduate students and practising teachers to engage with contemporary issues and developments in music education. It introduces a critical approach to the central concepts and practices that have influenced major interventions and initiatives in music teaching and supports the development of new ways of looking at ideas around teaching and learning in music. Bringing together leading international experts, the chapters consider key issues in music education alongside reflective questions to help shape research and writing. This second edition has been fully updated to reflect the latest debates in the field, including the justification for music in the school curriculum, music education and cognitive psychology, the nature of musical knowledge, addressing decolonisation, partnerships in music education, the nature of musical development, social justice and music education, the place of diverse musical genres and traditions in the music curriculum, pedagogies of composing, environmentally sustainable practices for teaching music with technology, the professional journeys and identity of music teachers. Written to help readers to form their own personal philosophy of music education and stimulate critical and creative thinking, Debates in Music Teaching is essential reading for all student and practising music teachers.

Embodied Learning and Teaching Using the 4E Cognition Approach Theresa Schilhab, Camilla Groth, 2024-05-30 This book operationalises the new field Embodied Learning that integrates embodiment and grounded cognition perspectives with education using the 4E approach as a guiding principle which suggests that cognition is embodied, embedded, enacted or extended. Chapters highlight empirical data providing readers with research-based insight into the theoretical foundations of embodied cognition in learning, illustrated by practical examples. Ultimately, the volume contributes a radical understanding of embodied cognition, demonstrating the importance of the field to the educational system more broadly and suggesting a fundamental change to the way learning, education and curriculum design are viewed and considered. Based on contemporary scientific findings, the book addresses the educational area with a focus on opening the embodied approach to a wider audience that will circulate the new knowledge and support their educational practices. Written with the purpose of contributing to a broad spectrum of academic educational fields, this book will be of use to postgraduates, researchers and academics in the fields of higher education, educational psychology, teacher education and teaching methodology and practice. Teachers and school politicians should also benefit from this volume more broadly.
