factor

Carrying Capacity

- Intrinsic factor
- It is the upper limit of the population size that can be supported by the amount of available resources

Introduction: Density-dependent is the number of individuals in a population per unit of space. Density-dependent factors only affect a population when the density reaches a certain level. These limiting factors also include all biotic/abiotic limiting factors.

Question: How does a density-dependent limiting factor affect carrying capacity?

1. Challenge question: What do you think would happen if a density-dependent limiting factor might be?

Population drops with density

2. Challenge question: A decreasing trend in birth rate in a population during times when resources are scarce. How do you think this would affect carrying capacity?

Population will decrease over time which will ultimately lead to a decrease in carrying capacity.

3. Challenge question: How do you think the carrying capacity with density-dependent factors would affect the carrying capacity?
