Re-humanizing Medicine David R. Kopacz, 2014-11-28 What starts as personal dissatisfaction in the workplace can become personal transformation that changes clinical practice and ultimately changes the culture of medicine Physicians and professionals train extensively to relieve suffering Yet the systems they train and practice in create suffering for both themselves and their clients through the neglect of basic human needs True healthcare reform requires addressing dehumanization in medicine by caring for the whole person of the professional and the patient Re humanizing Medicine provides a holistic framework to support human connection and the expression of full human being of doctors professionals and patients A clinician needs to be a whole person to treat a whole person thus the work of transformation begins with clinicians As professionals work to transform themselves this will in turn transform their clinical practices and healthcare institutions Film Review, 1999-2000 James Cameron-Wilson, 2000-03 Now in its 57th year Film Review is the longest running film annual available Lively opinion is combined with detailed coverage of the year s cinema releases as well as features on movie gossip and the most promising new faces Investigating Human Nature and Communication through Robots Shuichi Nishio, Hideyuki Nakanishi, Tsutomu Fujinami, 2017-01-17 The development of information technology enabled us to exchange more items of information among us no matter how far we are apart from each other It also changed our way of communication Various types of robots recently promoted to be sold to general public hint that these robots may further influence our daily life as they physically interact with us and handle objects in environment We may even recognize a feel of presence similar to that of human beings when we talk to a robot or when a robot takes part in our conversation The impact will be strong enough for us to think about the meaning of communication This e book consists of various studies that examine our communication influenced by robots Topics include our attitudes toward robot behaviors designing robots for better communicating with people and how people can be affected by communicating through robots The Christian Union Henry Ward Beecher, 1891 Outlook Alfred Emanuel Smith, Francis Walton, 1891
