Four Exemplars of Ru (Confucianism) Paul J. D'Ambrosio, Geir Sigurðsson, Dimitra Amarantidou, Hans-Georg Moeller, 2025-08-15 This book discusses scholars who have all engaged in comparative philosophy projects many of whom first rose to fame because of their penetrating insights into the similarities and differences in Western and Chinese thought. They all went beyond simply looking at how one thinker, one school or one tradition relates to another; each draws on sources from China and the West. However, their projects, from role ethics to concrete metaphysics, from critiquing individualism to balancing harmony and justice, are attempts at re-evaluating the way we view the world and live our lives. These projects are systematic, thorough, and comprehensive descriptions of ourselves, the world, and our interactions with others. They are all comparative, but on top of this, they also aim at making a point that transcends their comparisons. The book thus shows that these great thinkers draw on a multiplicity of resources, and while they might find some ideas closer to home than others, comparison is a necessary constant. Using traditional Confucian vocabulary, this type of philosophizing is described as practicing xue, normally understood as studying or learning. But it also means to copy, imitate, model, or emulate. In the process of xue, one imitates but with a nod to differences. This book honors four models of such an attitude to xue. In its examination of some of the most influential scholars in Chinese thought, this is a seminal book for scholars and students in Chinese and comparative philosophy.

Postcolonial Justice Anke Bartels, Lars Eckstein, Nicole Waller, Dirk Wiemann, 2017-02-13 Postcolonial Justice addresses a major issue in current postcolonial theory and beyond, namely the question of how to reconcile an ethics grounded in the reciprocal acknowledgment of diversity and difference with the normative, if not universal, thrust that appears to energize any notion of justice. The concept of postcolonial justice shared by the essays in this volume carries an unwavering commitment to difference within and beyond Europe, while equally rejecting radical cultural essentialisms which refuse to engage in utopian ideals of convivial exchange across a plurality of subject positions. Such utopian ideals can no longer claim universal validity as in the tradition of the European enlightenment; instead, they are bound to local frames of speaking from which they project the world.
