
AP Human Geography - Chapter 18 FRQ

Define the concept of a megacity. - correct answers - population of over 10 mil

- exerts influence regionally and/or ubiquitously
- includes world's largest cities

Explain the concept of a world city using either economic or political characteristics. - correct answers - world cities are cities that exert influence far beyond national boundaries

- characteristics/examples: all world cities are media hubs and financial centers with influential stock exchanges, banks, corporate headquarters

Compare the distribution of megacities to world cities. - correct answers Megacities are classified by size (population over 10 mil) whereas world cities' statuses are based off of economic/political factors.

- most megacities reside in developing countries.
- conversely, world cities are more often found in the developed world (think of socioeconomic characteristics).

Explain an economic reason why this city has become such a large city. - correct answers Megacities were once found at the centers of large empires in powerful countries -- an example could include Tokyo, Japan.

Explain an environmental/social problem a megacity faces. - correct answers Social problems - contention between ethnic groups, joblessness, lack of infrastructure, inadequate housing

Environmental problems - severe air pollution (example: Mexico City)

Explain a political or social reason why suburbanization has occurred so prevalently in the U.S. since the 1950's. - correct answers Suburbanization became prevalent after WWII, ensuing with economic expansion, a more car-centered lifestyle, and new systems of highways to commute from home to work (to name a few). Generous mortgage loans given by the FHA allowed military families to live on their own residential property in a suburban community.

What is urban How can it be described and contextualised How is it used in theory and practice Urban processes feature in key international policy and practice discourses They are at the core of research agendas across traditional academic disciplines and emerging interdisciplinary fields However the concept of the urban remains highly contested both as material reality and imaginary construct The urban remains imprecisely defined Defining the Urban is an indispensable guide for the urban transdisciplinary thinker and practitioner Parts I and II focus on how Academic Disciplines and Professional Practices respectively understand and engage with the urban Included among others are Architecture Ecology Governance and Sociology Part III Emerging Approaches outlines how elements from theory and practice combine to form transdisciplinary tools and perspectives Written by eminent experts in their respective fields Defining the Urban provides a stepping stone for the development of a common language a shared ontology in the disjointed fields of urban research and practice It is a comprehensive and accessible resource for anyone with an interest in understanding how urban scholars and practitioners can work together on this complex theme Towards Coastal Resilience and Sustainability C. Patrick Heidkamp,John Morrissey,2018-09-28 Coastal zones represent a frontline in the battle for sustainability as coastal communities face unprecedented economic challenges Coastal ecosystems are subject to overuse loss of resilience and increased vulnerability This book aims to interrogate the multi scalar complexities in creating a more sustainable coastal zone Sustainability transitions are geographical processes which happen in situated particular places However much contemporary discussion of transition is either aspatial or based on implicit assumptions about spatial homogeneity This book addresses these limitations through an examination of socio technological transitions with an explicitly spatial focus in the context of the coastal zone The book begins by focusing on theoretical understandings of transition processes specific to the coastal zone and includes detailed empirical case studies The second half of the book appraises governance initiatives in coastal zones and their efficacy The authors conclude with an implicit theme of social and environmental justice in coastal sustainability transitions Research will be of interest to practitioners academics and decision makers active in the sphere of coastal sustainability The multi disciplinary nature encourages accessibility for individuals working in the fields of Economic Geography Regional Development Public Policy and Planning Environmental Studies Social Geography and Sociology Pope's Rape of the Lock Alexander Pope,1899 Pandemic Recovery? Lauren Andres,John R. Bryson,Aksel Ersoy,Louise Reardon,2024-01-18 This timely book offers an integrated and pragmatic approach to understanding recovery from all types of shock Whilst particular focus is given to identifying and exploring various aspects of recovering societies in the context of COVID 19 Pandemic Recovery is framed with a wider appreciation of other societal challenges most notably anthropogenic climate change
