

The book cover features a collage of architectural images. At the top, a small, historic stone building with multiple windows and a central arched entrance is set against a clear blue sky. Below this, the main portion of the cover is dominated by a large, modern architectural structure. This structure has a complex, geometric design with a facade of intersecting lines that create a grid-like pattern. The colors of the facade are primarily shades of blue and green, with some lighter areas where the lines intersect. The perspective is from a low angle, looking up at the building, which emphasizes its height and scale. The overall composition is dynamic and modern, contrasting the old and new architecture.
