Trees as Symbol and Metaphor in the Middle Ages Michael D. J. Bintley, Pippa Saloni, 2024 WINNER AFCEMS Prize 2024 Highlights human encounters with the forest and its trees at the time of the European Middle Ages when their lofty boughs were weighted with meaning Forests with their interlacing networks of trees and secret patterns of communication are powerful entities for thinking with A majestic terrestrial community of arboreal others their presence echoes entangles and resonates deeply with the human world The chapters interrogate the pre Anthropocene environment reflecting on trees as metaphors for kinship and knowledge as they appear in literary historical art historical and philosophical sources They examine images of trees and trees in themselves across a range of environmental material and intellectual contexts and consider how humans used arboreal and rhizomatic forms to negotiate bodies of knowledge and processes of transition Looking beyond medieval Europe they include discussion of parallel developments in the Islamic world and that of the M ori the indigenous people of New Zealand

Representing Landscape Architecture Marc Treib,2008-02-19 Representing Landscape Architecture offers a broad investigation of how the designed landscape is and has been represented for design study for criticism and even for its realization It has been said that we can only realize what we can imagine But in order to realize we must convey ideas to others as well as to ourselves Representation is by no means neutral and the process of communication the process by which the imagination takes its first form itself necessarily limits the range of our design possibilities Computers further remove from cognitive processes and raise new questions about methods and limits Written by a team of renowned practitioners and academics this book is the best available reference to date on the many dimensions of landscape representation SF & N.,1984-07

Certified Professional exam Theory in Landscape Architecture Simon R. Swaffield, 2002-11-22 Basic theoretical texts for landscape architects Landscape Architecture, 1927 Planting Design Theodore D. Walker, 1991-08-26 The new edition of this textbook provides an overview of design principles and techniques for using plants aesthetically and functionally in landscaping Unique to this book are discussions on using a microcomputer for selecting plants preparing cost estimates and writing specifications More than 200 photographs drawings and sketches highlight numerous graphic techniques for planting plans Landscape Design in Color Mira Engler, 2022-12-27 Architects landscape architects and urban designers experiment with color and lighting effects in their daily professional practice Over the past decade there has been a reinvigorated discussion on color within architectural and cultural studies Yet scholarly enquiry within landscape architecture has been minimal despite its important role in landscape design This book posits that though color and lighting effects appear natural fleeting and difficult to comprehend the sensory palette of built landscapes and gardens has been carefully constructed to shape our experience and evoke meaning and place character Landscape Design in Color History Theory and Practice 1750 to Today is an inquiry into the themes theories and debates on color and its impact on practice in Western landscape architecture over the past three centuries Divided into three key periods each chapter in the book looks at the use of color in the written and built work of key prominent designers The book investigates thematic juxtapositions such as natural and artificial color and line design and draftsmanship sensation and concept imitation and translation deception and display and decoration and structure and how these have appeared faded disappeared and reappeared throughout the ages Richly designed and illustrated in full color throughout including color palettes this book is a must have resource for students scholars and design professionals in landscape architecture and its allied disciplines The Tree of Life and Arboreal Aesthetics in Early Modern Literature Victoria Bladen, 2021-10-27 The Tree of Life and Arboreal Aesthetics in Early Modern Literature explores the vital motif of the tree of life and what it meant to early modern writers who drew from its long histories in biblical classical and folkloric contexts giving rise to a language of trees an arboreal aesthetics An ancient symbol of immortality the tree of life was appropriated by Christian ideology and iconography to express ideas about Christ however the concept also migrated beyond religious doctrine Ideas circulating around the tree of life enabled writers to imagine and articulate ideas of death and rebirth loss and regeneration the condition of the political state and personal states of the soul through arboreal metaphors and imagery The motif could be used to sacralise landscapes such as the garden orchard or country estate blurring the lines between contemporary green spaces and the spiritual and poetic imaginary Located within the field of environmental humanities and intersecting with ecocriticism and critical plant studies this volume outlines a comprehensive history of the tree of life and offers interdisciplinary readings of focus texts by Shakespeare George Herbert Henry Vaughan Aemilia Lanyer Andrew Marvell and Ralph Austen It includes consideration of related ideas and motifs such as the tree of Jesse and the Green Man illuminating the rich histories and meanings that emerge when an understanding of the tree of life and arboreal aesthetics are brought to the analysis of early modern literary texts and their representations of green spaces both physical and metaphysical
