Martijn van der Heide, Wim

Heijman,2013-01-03 This book aims to explore the avenue of landscape economics and provides the building blocks from different scientific disciplines for an economic analysis of landscapes What exactly constitutes and determines the value of a landscape It focuses on the value of landscapes in its broadest sense thereby covering a variety of topics including stakeholder involvement in landscape design landscape governance and landscape perceptions from different countries Merely saying that landscapes have value or are important is not sufficient not when resources are scarce and have alternative uses Measuring and quantifying the economic value of changes in landscapes would help ensure that landscape management decisions are both economically rational and sound Soil Classification Hari Eswaran,Robert Ahrens,Thomas J. Rice,B.A. Stewart,2002-12-26 Developments in soil classification have accompanied parallel progress in our understanding of the soil system However the theories behind the classifications and the purposes for which they were created have changed over time The editors hope that this comprehensive synthesis will help to rally soil scientists around the world to develop an accurate Managing and Designing Landscapes for Conservation David B. Lindenmayer,Richard J. Hobbs,2008-04-15 The distinctive relationships between landscape change habitat fragmentation and biodiversity conservation are highlighted in this original and useful guide to the theory and practice of ecological landscape design Using original ecologically based landscape design principles the text underscores current thinking in landscape management and conservation It offers a blend of theoretical and practical information that is illustrated with case studies drawn from across the globe Key insights by some of the world's leading experts in landscape ecology and conservation biology make Managing and Designing Landscapes for Conservation an essential volume for anyone involved in landscape management natural resource planning or biodiversity conservation Wetland and Riparian Restoration Society for Ecological Restoration. Conference,1997 The Routledge Handbook of Cultural Landscape Heritage in The Asia-Pacific Kapila D. Silva,Ken Taylor,David S. Jones,2022-07-29 The Routledge Handbook of Cultural Landscape Heritage in the Asia Pacific revisits the use growth and potential of the cultural landscape methodology in the conservation and management of culture nature heritage in the Asia Pacific region Taking both a retrospective and prospective view of the management of cultural heritage in the region this volume argues that the plurality and complexity of heritage in the region cannot be comprehensively understood and effectively managed without a broader conceptual framework like the cultural landscape approach The book also demonstrates that such an approach facilitates the development of a flexible strategy for heritage conservation Acknowledging the effects of rapid socio economic development globalization and climate change contributors examine the pressure these issues place on the sustenance of cultural heritage Including chapters from more than 20 countries across the Asia Pacific region the volume reviews the effectiveness of theoretical and practical potentials afforded by the cultural landscape approach and examines how they have been utilized in the Asia Pacific context for the last three decades The Routledge Handbook of Cultural Landscape Heritage in the Asia Pacific provides a comprehensive analysis of the processes of cultural landscape heritage conservation and management As a result it will be of interest to academics students and professionals who are based in the fields of cultural heritage management architecture urban planning landscape architecture and landscape management

Landscape Evolution Jonathan D. Phillips, 2021-04-30 Landscape Evolution Landforms Ecosystems and Soils asks us to think holistically to look for the interactions between the Earth's component surface systems to consider how universal laws and historical and geographical contingency work together and to ponder the implications of nonlinear dynamics in landscapes ecosystems and soils Development evolution landforms topography soils ecosystems and hydrological systems are inextricably intertwined While empirical studies increasingly incorporate these interactions theories and conceptual frameworks addressing landforms soils and ecosystems are pursued largely independently This is partly due to different academic disciplines traditions and lexicons involved and partly due to the disparate time scales sometimes encountered Landscape Evolution explicitly synthesizes and integrates these theories and threads of inquiry arguing that all are guided by a general principle of efficiency selection A key theme is that evolutionary trends are probabilistic emergent outcomes of efficiency selection rather than purported goal functions This interdisciplinary reference will be useful for academic and research scientists across the Earth sciences Serves as a primary theoretical resource on landscape evolution Earth surface system development and environmental responses to climate and land use change Incorporates key ideas on geomorphic soil hydrologic and ecosystem evolution and responses in a single book Includes case studies to provide real world examples of evolving landscapes

Dealing with biases Hendrik Feiken, 2014-09-18 This book explores the bias that is introduced by erosion and sedimentation on the distribution of archaeological materials in Mediterranean landscapes It describes innovative and interdisciplinary work that led to the formulation of a broad range of geo archaeological approaches that are applied to two Italian areas studied intensively by the Groningen Institute of Archaeology the Pontine Region in South Lazio and the Raganello Basin in North Calabria The approaches deal with geological biases affecting the study of protohistoric remains in the sedimentary part of the Pontine plain the development of a detailed landscape classification approach to predict and test site location preferences and survey biases in the uplands of both study areas and the development and evaluation of an innovative computerised landscape evolution model for a test area in the Raganello Basin uplands In addition to the presented case study this book also shows how the three geo archaeological approaches can be applied in a wider context to quantitatively understand how erosion and sedimentation bias our understanding of archaeological records
