Afrikaans Short Stories Felix Vincent Lategan, Michael Wallendorf Smuts, Hymne Weiss, 1964 Stories of the Liberation Struggles in South Africa Prof. Thabo Israel Pudi, 2014-12-12 The Stories of the Liberation Struggles in South Africa Mpumalanga Province Book II is a continuation of the Stories of the Liberation struggle stories from Book I as told by the people of South Africa about their experiences and contributions to the ultimate victory over oppression domination and apartheid Many books and documentaries and even other forms of media when discussing the liberation struggles in South Africa have focused on stories or experiences as told by well known individuals This to some extent has created an impression that the struggle was fought by known individuals and leaders and it is only the known individuals and the leadership that have experienced the wrath of the police the army or the might of the South African regime In actual fact the truth is that the leadership was there to fuel and to organize the struggle and the masses Out of spontaneity and the resistance to oppression the struggle was automatically born In this book and Part II the contributors tell of stories about the struggle that they witnessed or have affected them directly Apartheid and oppression was in actual fact against all nonwhite people and not only against leaders The foot soldiers or people on the ground who waged the real battles when they destroyed targets and defied the state of emergencies and survive teargas and gunshots are the ones that will tell stories that even the so called leaders will have to hear and learn from them Some of the stories the stories of bravery the stories of sacrifice the stories of escape and the stories of resistance against the forces that were intend on undermining the human dignity of the black masses will be heard for the first time by some of the leadership that are still alive Suffice it to say that the reason is that the media reporting has been biased against these individuals who may have been perceived to be nobodies As is evident in this book they may be nobodies but the stories that they tell are worth the while It is indeed true that every story has more than one side the side told by the leadership the side told by the media which in many instances are driven by sensation or allegiance to the leadership and the side told by the others I marvel at the words of the wise that there are three sides to each story side of the story the other man side of the story and the true version of the story This book is not about to judge as to which side of the story is true or appropriate but to make available a platform from which even the unknown will have to tell their own stories about their suffering and the liberation struggles in South Africa Is it not better to read the stories from those who have experience of them rather than those who heard about them The Vita Anthology of New South African Short Fiction Marcia Leveson, 1988 South African national bibliography , 1999 Classified list with author and title index Zoë Wicomb & the Translocal Kai Easton, Derek Attridge, 2017-09-25 This is the first book on the fiction of Zo Wicomb a writer long at the forefront of the South African canon and whose international stature was firmly secured with the award of an inaugural Windham Campbell prize at Yale in 2013 It brings together interdisciplinary essays from the UK USA South Africa and Australia demonstrating Wicomb s importance as a novelist short story writer and critic

The central focus of the volume is the translocal a term that navigates the complex and shifting relations between disparate localities respecting the situatedness of each locality within its immediate geopolitical context while investigating the connections and contrasts that operate between them In Wicomb s case her work stems from a dual allegiance to two localities both in her fiction as in her life South Africa s Western Cape and the west of Scotland In tracking the relations contemporary and historical between these sites her fiction reveals a consistent interest in and interrogation of home and belonging space and place it also offers telling insights into questions of race and gender The historical processes of colonization and migration that have produced translocal connections of this kind are central to postcolonial studies to which this book makes a significant contribution Exploring the visual and cartographical and extending debates on the transnational and cosmopolitan that are currently taking place across disciplines including literary studies geography history politics and anthropology the collection covers the range of Wicomb s work It also features an unanthologised essay by Wicomb herself an interview and a suite of photographs by Sophia Klaase whose images of Namaqualand inspired Wicomb s most recent novel October

The Transvaal Educational News ,1957 Shadow Sisters Shelley Davidow,2018-03-28 A brave heartrending memoir of family love and longing in the turbulent era of Apartheid in South Africa During the terrifying years of Apartheid in South Africa Shelley Davidow s family was a crime At a time when it was illegal for black and white people to live together Shelley s social activist parents took in Rosie an abandoned black three year old Rosie grew up as a beloved daughter and sister in a white household Against the backdrop of racist laws and ever present threats of violence Shelley s parents did all they could to provide a safe happy home for their five children But when Rosie was sixteen devastating truths came to light shattering the family s understanding of the past In this haunting memoir Shelley Davidow sifts through the memories of her early life searching for hope and reconciliation Shadow Sisters leaves us with a deeper understanding of family love and of how sometimes that love is not enough

Intruders Mohale Mashigo,2018-09-01 Orphan sisters chase monsters of urban legend in Bloemfontein At a busy taxi rank a woman kills a man with her shoe A genomicist is accused of playing God when she creates a fatherless child Intruders is a collection that explores how it feels not to belong These are stories of unremarkable people thrust into extraordinary situations by events beyond their control With a unique and memorable touch Mohale Mashigo explores the everyday ills we live with and wrestle constantly all the while allowing hidden energies to emerge and play out their unforeseen consequences Intruders is speculative fiction at its best

Stellenbosch Writers Rosemarie Breuer,2005 Homeschooling: The Primary Years

Shirley Erwee, 2015-07-13 An invaluable guide for families embarking on the journey of educating their primary school age children at home One of the biggest challenges for homeschooling parents is to break away from the model of education they received in school and to re educate themselves about Education as the conventional classroom methodology is not the model of pedagogy teaching that works best in the homeschool scenario This book offers tried and tested alternatives that will enrich and facilitate learning rather than hinder the process of educating young minds Having been part of the first generation of South African homeschoolers the author shares her knowledge plus tips and advice she has learnt along the way in order to help others make good choices and avoid common pitfalls and costly mistakes Lahlekile Doreen Merle Foster, 2007 The South African nursing experience over 90 years has been adequately documented and may be found on the shelves of public libraries university libraries and hospital libraries as well as between the pages of struggle literature such as Critical Health This book does not attempt academic analysis per se rather is it an authentic oral and written account of the experiences which shaped the careers of black nurses The sample of respondents was picked at random across the country as time and private purse allowed They were assured anonymity in that only first or nicknames would be used as a rule except where a surname carries historical significance In 1994 when the winds of changes blew democracy across the political landscape the South African nursing profession too was gusted along the road of revolution It was no longer a question of whether change would come but when Nonceba Lubanga in her chapter Nursing in South Africa has been given a detailed account of the struggle of black nurses referring to them as the unsung heroes of the African struggle in South Africa P 4 of cover Global Cultures Elisabeth Young-Bruehl, 1994-12-09 An anthology of 62 stories from around the non Euro American world providing new definitions of cultural diversity and commonality and an invaluable tool for teachers responding to the growing need for multicultural literature Over the past two decades sweeping political changes and burgeoning new technologies have resulted in communities being increasingly defined in global as well as regional and national terms Although the intellectual terra nova of world cultures remains largely uncharted this anthology of sixty two stories from around the non Euro American world provides what Elisabeth Young Bruehl calls an introductory map to the great wealth of literary works now being produced in at once the particular settings of the writers experiences and the global setting Young Bruehl finds that while the cultural diversity the stories exemplify is amazing so too is the similarity in thematic terms of the concerns that this diversity presents Thus she organized Global Cultures thematically to highlight and clarify how these worldwide cultures both converge and diverge A comprehensive general introduction outlines forces behind the transnational approach to literary study and chapter introductions contextualize each story Stories from India Cuba South Africa and Uruguay are connected by the theme of exile and immigration tales from Nigeria Guatemala Cameroon and Egypt share a theme of political violence and civil uprisings works from Taiwan Chile Jamaica and Syria describe commonalities of women facing effects of modernization prejudice war and immigration Global Cultures contributes to the fast growing body of contemporary short fictions newly available in English and is an invaluable resource to meet the need for multicultural literature The Indian P.E.N. ,1966 Hermanus Stories II Susara Johanna Du Toit,2002 Under African Skies ,1999 Pace ,1997-04 Firetalk Marcia Leveson,1990 A Snake with Ice Water Barbara Schreiner,1992 Walk Through Paradise ,1995
