Punishing the Other Anna Eriksson, 2015-08-20 Punishing the Other draws on the work of Zygmunt Bauman to discuss contemporary discourses and practices of punishment and criminalization. Bringing together some of the most exciting international scholars both established and emerging, this book engages with Bauman's thesis of the social production of immorality in the context of criminalization and social control and addresses processes of othering through a range of contemporary case studies situated in various cultural, political and social contexts. Topics covered include the increasing bureaucratization of the business of punishment with the corresponding loss of moral and ethical reflection in the public sphere, punitive discourses around border control and immigration and exclusionary discourses and their consequences concerning terrorists and other socially and culturally defined outsiders. Engaging with national and global issues that are more topical now than ever before, this book is essential reading for academics and students involved in the study of the sociology of punishment, punishment and modern society, the criminal justice system, philosophy and punishment and comparative criminology and penology.

The Experiences of Black and Minority Ethnic Academics Kalwant Bhopal, 2015-06-26 Recent research suggests that Black and minority ethnic BME academics remain underrepresented, particularly at senior levels in higher education and tend to be concentrated in new post 1992 universities. This book provides an original comparative study of BME academics in both the UK and the USA, two different yet similar cultural and political climates, considering issues of inequality, difference and identity in the Academy. Presenting a distinctive and engaging voice, the book discusses the complexity of race, gender and identity in the context of higher education, an area that continues to appear to be dominated by white middle class values and perspectives. Chapters offer an up to date commentary on the purpose, failures and potential of research on race, gender and identity and its place within contemporary education and sociology. The book broadens the understanding of educational research, considering both sociological and cultural discourse as well as examining racialized and gendered identities from a theoretical and analytical standpoint. The book closes by offering suggestions for viable policy shifts in this area. The Experiences of Black and Minority Ethnic Academics will be of key interest to researchers, academics and postgraduate students in the field of education as well as sociologists wanting to learn more about black and minority academics in higher education.
