

Exploratory Essay Sheet

For your first essay for this course, you must write a persuasive exploratory paper in which you explain the controversy surrounding the issue you chose and state your position on the issue. The paper should present the preliminary research you have done to explore the three positions on the issue: the viewpoints in favor of (pro), against (con), and in the middle ground. Most of the paper will consist of your explanation of the three positions. The rest will consist of the preliminary case you will make for your position. Be as objective as you can in explaining the three positions. If you want to counter any of the points, you can do so when you present your case for your position.

The paper should conform to the standard organization of an academic paper: an introduction with clear thesis, body paragraphs with topic sentences, and conclusion. In the introduction, be sure to define the issue by briefly suggesting its history or background. When did your topic become controversial? What was the situation regarding the topic before the controversy arose? What was the situation after? What broader implications, if any, does the issue have? Don't forget to briefly define important terms and to provide brief explanations where necessary for an unfamiliar audience.

Your thesis should be a clear, direct statement that presents the three positions and that gives your position. You may have a single paragraph introduction with the thesis at or near the end of it. However, you also have the option of presenting your thesis in a paragraph later than the first one, similar to the placement of the thesis in the "Homosexual Marriage" essay. This choice is up to you: neither option is more "correct" than the other.

The body paragraphs should present in an objective discussion each of the three positions, as well as your case for your position. You should quote from, paraphrase, or summarize your source material in order to develop the body paragraphs. You may have only two block quotations of only four lines each. Use paraphrase and summary primarily to present the positions. Be sure to properly credit all source material (whether direct quotation, paraphrase, or summary) by using correct MLA documentation techniques.

In the conclusion, summarize the three positions. Then press your stand or point of view on the issue.

Engaging Ideas John C. Bean, Dan Melzer, 2021-06-09 Use your course's big ideas to accelerate students' growth as writers and critical thinkers. The newly revised third edition of Engaging Ideas delivers a step-by-step guide for designing writing assignments and critical thinking activities that engage students with important subject matter questions. This new edition of the celebrated book, now written by the co-author team of Bean and Melzer, uses leading and current research and theory to help you link active learning pedagogy to your course's subject matter. You'll learn how to design formal and informal writing assignments that guide students toward thinking like experts in your discipline. Use time-saving strategies for coaching the writing process and handling the paper load, including alternatives to traditional grading such as portfolio assessment and contract grading. Help students use self-assessment and peer response to improve their work. Develop better ways than the traditional research paper to teach undergraduate reading and research. Integrate social media, multimodal genres, and digital technology into the classroom to promote active learning. This book demonstrates how writing can easily be integrated with other critical thinking activities such as inquiry discussions, simulation games, classroom debates, and interactive lectures. The reward of this book is watching students come to class better prepared, more vested in the questions your course investigates, more apt to study purposefully, and more likely to submit high-quality work. Perfect for higher education faculty and curriculum designers across all disciplines, Engaging Ideas will also earn a place in the libraries of graduate students in higher education. Instructor's Manual Patrick Geary, Patricia O'Brien, Nancy Wood, 2003-09

The Chicago guide to writing, editing, and publishing (18th edition) Emory Langford, 2025-07-14 Are you struggling to turn good writing into exceptional work that gets noticed, published, and respected? Do you constantly second-guess your grammar, structure, or citation style, or feel overwhelmed by the endless rules of editing and formatting? You're not alone. Writers, editors, academics, and self-publishers across the world face the same challenge. How do I turn ideas into polished, publishable content that commands attention and respect? The Chicago Guide to Writing, Editing, and Publishing 18th Edition by Emory Langford is the definitive answer to that question. Whether you're crafting your first novel, preparing an academic thesis, fine-tuning a nonfiction manuscript, or editing professional content, this powerful guide transforms your writing process from chaotic to confident. Rooted in the authoritative Chicago Manual of Style 18th Edition, this book offers the modern writer a clear, structured, and proven path to excellence. Inside, you'll uncover expert strategies for mastering grammar, punctuation, and sentence clarity; in-depth guidance on citation styles, referencing, and manuscript preparation; real-world editing techniques used by professional editors and publishers; practical examples, troubleshooting tips, and checklists to improve every draft. A modern yet timeless framework for academic, creative, and professional writing. This isn't just a style manual; it's your editorial compass. Designed for writers, editors, scholars, and independent publishers, this guide bridges the gap between idea and impact, turning confusion into clarity and first drafts into publishable work.
