Geography, Technology and Instruments of Exploration Fraser MacDonald,Charles W.J. Withers,2016-04-22 Focusing on aspects of the functioning of technology and by looking at instruments and at instrumental performance this book addresses the epistemological questions arising from examining the technological bases to geographical exploration and knowledge claims Questions of geography and exploration and technology are addressed in historical and contemporary context and in different geographical locations and intellectual cultures The collection brings together scholars in the history of geographical exploration historians of science historians of technology and importantly experts with curatorial responsibilities for and museological expertise in major instrument collections Ranging in their focus from studies of astronomical practice to seismography meteorological instruments and rockets from radar to the hand held barometer the chapters of this book examine the ways in which instruments and questions of technology too often overlooked hitherto offer insight into the connections between geography and exploration Instruments, Industrial, Scientific ,1929 Vols for 1938 44 1946 include an issue called the Instruments index published sometimes as pt 2 of a regular number sometimes as an extra number Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1984 The American Biology Teacher ,1938 Includes section Books SCIENCE PROJECTS IN RENEWABLE ENERGY AND ENERGY EFFICIENCY , The Value of Science Projects Science projects are an especially effective way of teaching students about the world around them Whether conducted in the classroom or for a science fair science projects can help develop critical thinking and problem solving skills In a classroom setting science projects offer a way for teachers to put action into the lessons The students have fun while they re learning important knowledge and skills And the teacher often learns with the students experiencing excitement with each new discovery Science projects are generally of two types non experimental and experimental Non experimental projects usually reflect what the student has read or heard about in an area of science By creating displays or collections of scientific information or demonstrating certain natural phenomena the student goes through a process similar to a library research report or a meta analysis in any other subject Projects of this type may be appropriate for some students at a very early level but they usually do not provide the experiences that develop problem solving skills related to the scientific process On the other hand experimental projects pose a question or hypothesis which is then answered by doing an experiment or by modeling a phenomenon The question doesn t have to be something never before answered by scientist that is not necessary to conduct original research The process of picking a topic designing an experiment and recording and analyzing data is what s important Commerce Business Daily ,1998-10 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1984 Modern Laboratory Appliances for Chemical, Biological, Metallurgical Laboratories Fisher Scientific Company,1960 Arctic Genius Trevor Ware,2025-03-30 William Parry Arctic explorer and naval reformer shaped exploration science and the Navy s transition to steam Parry s life began two hundred and twenty years ago The Revolutionary Wars against France and Napoleon were just beginning His naval career started in wartime and lasted throughout the next fifty years during which significant changes took place in the Royal Navy He pioneered Arctic exploration led a memorable albeit unsuccessful expedition to reach the North Pole reformed and improved the operations of the Hydrographers office and oversaw the difficult transition from sail to steam power in British warships Throughout his career he strove to improve the educational standards and living conditions of all lower deck sailors He was knighted by William IV alongside his close friend John Franklin in 1829 Both survived years of hardship and became national and international celebrities Tragically though it was Parry and his in laws the aristocratic Stanley family who were partly responsible for Franklin's death in 1846 commanding one more expedition to complete the Northwest Passage. During their lifetime, Parry and Franklin contributed new information on sciences only just emerging from the generalised description of natural philosophy. Subjects such as geography, meteorology, geology, and astronomy. Parry was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of London and was an expert navigator and fearless surveyor. His grave at Greenwich Hospital was destroyed during an air raid in World War II. This book is intended to secure his well-deserved place at the forefront of British Arctic exploration and science.
