Geography Theory March 2014 Paper:

Walking Inside Out Tina Richardson, 2015-07-07 Walking Inside Out is the first text that attempts to merge the work of literary and artist practitioners with academics to critically explore the state of psychogeography today The collection explores contemporary psychogeographical practices shows how a critical form of walking can highlight easily overlooked urban phenomenon and examines the impact that everyday life in the city has on the individual Through a variety of case studies it offers a British perspective of international spaces from the British metropolis to the post communist European city By situating the current strand of psychogeography within its historical political and creative context along with careful consideration of the challenges it faces Walking Inside Out offers a vision for the future of the discipline

Handbook of Urban Geography Tim Schwanen, Ronald van Kempen, 2019 This collection brings together the latest thinking in urban geography It provides a comprehensive overview of topical issues and draws on experiences from across the world Chapters have been prepared by leading researchers in the field and cover themes as diverse as urban economies inequalities and diversity conflicts and politics ecology and sustainability and information technologies The Handbook offers a valuable resource for students and researchers interested in cities and the urban in geography and across the wider social sciences

Spatiality Vít Pászto, Carsten Jürgens, Polona Tominc, Jaroslav Burian, 2019-11-06 This open access book is based on Spatiality Spatial Exploration of Economic Data an interdisciplinary and international project in the frame of ERASMUS funded by the European Union The project aims to exchange interdisciplinary knowledge in the fields of economics and geomatics For the newly introduced courses interdisciplinary learning materials have been developed by a team of lecturers from four different universities in three countries In a first study block students were taught methods from the two main research fields Afterwards the knowledge gained had to be applied in a project For this international project teams were formed consisting of one student from each university participating in the project The achieved results were presented in a summer school a few months later At this event more methodological knowledge was imparted to prepare students for a final simulation game about spatial and economic decision making In a broader sense the chapters will present the methodological background of the project give case studies and show how visualisation and the simulation game works

The Evolution of Economic Development in Africa Francis K. Mbroh, 2021-07-11 Within the theoretical framework of the trade growth and structural transformation growth nexuses the book examines the evolution of African goods and service trade in terms of value and share of global commerce relative to other regions during the period 1948 2017 It also identifies and discusses discernible changes in the composition and structure of African exports and imports between 1995 and 2015 and their implications for economic development in Africa The study attributes Africa's laggard trade performance during the period primarily to sub optimal macroeconomic policies and lack of bold export development policies and initiatives among other factors It also offers an incisive discussion of several inhibitions to the structural transformation of African exports and imports including lack of finance globalization tariff and non tariff measures in global markets The discussion of the evolution of African trade during the period 1948 2017 based on statistics and publications of international organizations including the UNCTAD the World Bank and the African Development Bank among others is the first of its kind in terms of scope and depth of review of African trade The analyses of cross border trade during 1948 2017 and their implications for Africa s economic development prospects constitute a useful reference material for academics and students of African and development studies and African and international policymakers

Shifting Power in Asia-Pacific? Enrico Fels,2016-11-03 This book investigates whether a power shift has taken place in the Asia Pacific region since the end of the Cold War By systematically examining the development of power dynamics in Asia Pacific it challenges the notion that a wealthier and militarily more powerful China is automatically turning the regional tides in its favour With a special emphasis on Sino US competition the book explores the alleged linkage between the regional distribution of relevant material and immaterial capabilities national power and the much cited regional power shift The book presents a novel concept for measuring power in international relations by outlining a composite index on aggregated power CIAP that includes 55 variables for 44 regional countries and covers a period of twenty years Moreover it develops a middle power theory that outlines the significance of middle powers in times of major power shifts By addressing political military and economic cooperation via a structured focused comparison and by applying a comparative historical analysis the book analyses in depth the bilateral relations of six regional middle powers to Washington and Beijing
