

Personal Statement Prompts

Use these questions to form the basis of an effective general-purpose personal statement that you can quickly modify to suit many purposes: internships, scholarships, even applications to transfer universities. Write a few sentences or a paragraph in response to each question, and then string these together to make your first draft. Be sure to get outside review for readability, language structure, spelling, punctuation and general effectiveness.

1. Describe your educational goals and your professional goals, too, if you have decided on them at this point.
2. What influenced you in your choice(s)? Is there a story or interesting detail here?
3. What progress have you made so far? Include coursework or other relevant experiences.
4. What have been some of your challenges or obstacles you have encountered so far? Pick one, or two. (Some ideas to get you thinking: inefficient or poor study habits, a lot of demands from family, financial obligations, working too many hours outside school, weak background in high school, trying to take too many heavy courses at once, not understanding how to make the most of working in a group, need for better time management skills, being the first generation in your family to be attending college, etc.)
5. What have you done to meet those challenges and overcome those obstacles?
6. What other challenges do you expect may come up in the process of achieving your goals?
7. How do you think you might meet these future challenges?

Reporting Essentials for MicroStrategy Desktop MicroStrategy University, 2013-09-06 An autobiography of Abraham Lincoln, consisting of the personal Abraham Lincoln, 1926 Staging the Personal Clark Baim, 2020-09-05 This book examines the history ethics and intentions of staging personal stories and offers theatre makers detailed guidance and a practical model to support safe ethical practice Contemporary theatre has crossed boldly into therapeutic terrain and is now the site of radical self exposure Performances that would once have seemed shockingly personal and exposing have become commonplace as people reveal their personal stories to audiences with ever increasing candor This has prompted the need for a robust and pragmatic framework for safe ethical practice in mainstream and applied theatre In order to promote a wider range of ethical risk taking where practitioners negotiate blurred boundaries in safe and artistically creative ways this book draws on relevant theory and practice from theatre and performance studies psychodrama and attachment narrative therapy and provides detailed guidance supporting best practice in the theatre of personal stories The guidance is structured within a four part framework focused on history ethics praxis and intentions This includes a newly developed model for safe practice called the Drama Spiral The book is for theatre makers in mainstream and applied theatre educators students researchers drama therapists psychodramatists autobiographical performers and the people who support them

INVESTIGATING COMPARABILITY OF WRITING TASKS WITH PICTURE PROMPTS IN AN IN-HOUSE ENGLISH PROFICIENCY TEST YALI SHI, 2022-04-28 For security reasons using parallel writing tasks within or across different test administrations is common practice in large scale language testing Lack of task comparability would result in unjustified variance in test performance and consequently jeopardize test validity and fairness Thus it is crucial for test developers to gather empirical evidence from different aspects to substantiate the fairness argument that scores are consistent and score based decisions are impartial across parallel tasks Despite many studies hitherto on writing task comparability those addressing picture prompt writing tasks in an integrated manner have remained quite underexplored Therefore this book investigates the comparability of five writing tasks with picture prompts randomly assigned across testing occasions in an in house English proficiency test EPT of a comprehensive university from three perspectives the scores the texts and the raters and test takers Results show that task difficulty is not comparable either in terms of some lexical syntactic and content features elicited or as judged by raters and test takers which could be related with topic familiarity and conceptual clarity of the picture prompt Yet overall task comparability is achieved in not only final scores but also score distribution and classification accuracy The findings support the fairness argument for EPT writing and provide theoretical practical and methodological implications
