

Your Genesis Bow

The Genesis bow you purchased is different from other bows because it accommodates all draw lengths from 17" to 30". This means that people of all sizes can shoot the same bow without adjustment. Most especially for the beginning archer, the Genesis bow gives this option to draw and is very easy to shoot.

The Genesis bow is made from solid lightweight, machined aluminum, and the limbs are formed from a high strength, fiber reinforced composite. It is a step-down bow and is fitted with a high-tech bowstring and durable molded grip.

Genesis Specifications

Single cam compound bow
Draw weight: 18 to 30 lbs.
Draw length: 14 to 30"
Percent draw: 70%
Limb brace length: 28 1/2"
Grip length: 7 1/2"
String length: 54 1/2"
Power cable length: 21 1/2"

Genesis Features

Riser

The riser (center section) on your Genesis bow is machined from 6061 T6 aluminum. This riser is engineered to provide the Genesis bow with optimal balance while using both aluminum limbs and very lightweight.

Side Wheel

The side wheel is located on the upper limb of the bow. The main function of the side wheel is to transfer stored energy from the bow limbs back through the string to the arrow as it is drawn and released. The bearings in the side wheel are made of a very low friction synthetic material which minimizes friction.

Limb and Limb Bolts

The limbs on your Genesis bow are attached to each end of the riser. They store the potential energy you put into the bow and the string is released. At the moment of release, the stored potential energy is transferred into kinetic energy, and the arrow is propelled toward the target. The limb bolts, which attach to the riser and are also used to adjust the draw weight of your bow (using a DIT bow wrench), the limb bolts can be turned in a counter-clockwise direction to decrease the percentage of the bow to a minimum of 18 lbs. Turning the limb bolts clockwise will adjust the bow to its maximum of 30 lbs. One full turn requires approximately 1 lb. of draw weight. The limb bolts on each side should always be turned the same number of turns when adjusting bow percentage.

Genesis Bowstring System

Your Genesis bow features single cam design. The elliptical shaped cam allows the bow to maintain the set percentage throughout the draw cycle. The patented solid pin at the cam rotates and guides the bowstring. When the bowstring is released, the cam creates a flexural effect, which results in a faster arrow while maintaining low mass.

Grip

The durable, molded grip on your Genesis bow is specially designed to fit the contours of your hand, providing both comfort and consistency.

Arrow Rest

Your Genesis bow comes with a H&M style arrow rest (made by H&M Archery Products). The arrow rest is located just above the shelf portion of the riser. Our testing has proven that this rest is very durable and provides excellent shooting characteristics. Note: If the H&M rest breaks after repeated shots, simply turn the rest back to its original horizontal position.

Genesis

Bowstring

Our single cam Genesis bow with a high strength, durable bowstring made from some of the best materials. This bowstring provides superior performance, ensuring that the maximum amount of the bow's stored energy is transferred to the arrow.

Power Cable and Cable Guard

The power cable is the second component of the bowstring assembly. It is attached at the ends on the upper limb and wraps around the outer edge of the limb which is mounted on the lower limb.

The cable guard is the third component that joins the sliding cable loop that wraps the cable slightly off to one side and out of the light path of the arrow.

Notching Point

Your bow is marked with a white string mark. Your arrow should be "notched" positioned on the string just below the mark.

WARNING: Please confirm that arrow rest are at proper length and adjust to your bow's draw weight and draw length just as before your arrow manufacturer's recommendations.
