EFA Global Monitoring Report - 2013-2014 - Teaching and Learning: Achieving quality for all UNESCO, 2014-02-04. The 2013-2014 Education for All Global Monitoring Report shows that a lack of attention to education quality and a failure to reach the marginalized have contributed to a learning crisis that needs urgent attention. Worldwide, 250 million children, many of them from disadvantaged backgrounds, are not learning the basics. Teaching and Learning: Achieving Quality for All describes how policy makers can support and sustain a quality education system for all children, regardless of background, by providing the best teachers. The Report also documents global progress in achieving Education for All goals and provides lessons for setting a new education agenda post 2015. In addition, the Report identifies that insufficient financing is hindering advances in education. Education Policy Outlook 2019: Working Together to Help Students Achieve their Potential OECD, 2019-09-16. Taking the perspective of institutions and the system, Education Policy Outlook 2019: Working Together to Help Students Achieve their Potential analyses the evolution of key education priorities and key education policies in 43 education systems. This book reviews the state of education in Myanmar over the past decade and a half, as the country is undergoing profound, albeit incomplete, transformation. Set within the context of Myanmar's peace process and the wider reforms since 2012, Marie Lall's analysis of education policy and practice serves as a case study on how the reform programme has evolved. Drawing on over 15 years of field research carried out across Myanmar, the book offers a cohesive inquiry into government and non-government education sectors, the reform process, and how the transition has played out across schools, universities, and wider society. It casts scrutiny on changes in basic education, the alternative monastic education, higher education, and teacher education, and engages with issues of ethnic education and the debate on the role of language and the local curriculum as part of the peace process. In so doing, it gives voice to those most affected by the changing landscape of Myanmar's education and wider reform process: the students and parents of all ethnic backgrounds, teachers, teacher trainees, and university staff that are rarely heard. Reimagining Nigeria's Educational System Joseph A. Balogun, 2023-09-20. This book assesses the challenges within the Nigerian educational system and provides a concrete plan to revitalize the low-performing system by strengthening high-stakes testing at all levels. In Nigeria, many citizens believe that the solution to the country's low performance in education is to eliminate high-stakes standardized testing High stakes testing refers to applying standardized student achievement tests as a primary mechanism to evaluate students teachers and their school s performance This book argues that the poor quality of education and low ranking of Nigeria s educational system is not related to the negative consequences of high stakes testing but rather is due to many intrinsic factors By conducting a comparative analysis of six high performing education systems worldwide the book offers a comparative summative evaluation of the educational system and offers recommendations This book will be of interest to policymakers and scholars in the fields of African education higher education quality and global studies African studies management and administration leadership and professional development studies Joseph Abiodun Balogun is former Dean and retired Distinguished University Professor at the College of Health Sciences Chicago State University USA Visiting Professor Program Consultant at the Centre of Excellence in Reproductive Health Innovation University of Benin Nigeria and President CEO Joseph Rehabilitation Center Tinley Park Illinois USA College Admissions Data Sourcebook Northeast Edition Looseleaf 2010-11 ,2010-09 Gender, Education and Work Christine Eden,2017-03-27 Girls outperform boys in educational achievement yet women in work are less well paid are underrepresented in positions of power and carry a disproportionate burden of care and childcare Gender Education and Work analyses and interprets the latest data and research in the field to offer detailed historical and sociological explanations for this continuing inequity exploring different dimensions of inequality and how they intersect With discussion questions and selected further reading to support reflection on your own understanding and assumptions it covers key topics Historical approaches to the education of girls and women Key theories and debates Patterns of achievement and intersectionality Attainment gaps and socio economic status Ethnicity and attainment gaps Gender in the classroom and gender identity in schools Patterns of employment and the nature of work The gender pay gap Women s experience of work Gender Education and Work provides the arguments together with the historical evidence and research data required by serious education studies and sociology students engaged in the analysis of this urgent and complex topic Fluency and Reading Comprehension in Typical Readers and Dyslexics Readers Simone A. Don't Send Him in Tomorrow Jarlath O'Brien, 2016-08-04 In Don't Send Him in Tomorrow Jarlath O'Brien shines a light on the marginalised disenfranchised and forgotten children of today's schools The percentage of children achieving the government's expected standard in benchmark tests is national news every year The progress that children with learning difficulties and SEN make is never discussed because it is not understood That is a problem The bone crushing infrastructure which professionals have to negotiate is a problem The fact that so many parents have to fight tooth and nail so that the needs of their children are met something the rest of us would consider a basic entitlement is a problem This book describes how the system can be improved if and when these marginalised children are given higher priority by the powers that be There is a widespread lack of understanding about special schools the work they do and the children they educate the sector is largely invisible Jarlath O'Brien has become increasingly frustrated by this and the varying quality of provision for children with learning difficulties and SEN in mainstream schools The successes of special schools and pupil referral units in Ofsted inspections are just not celebrated or analysed in the same way that mainstream schools are While mainstream schools have their hands tied by fears over progress measures There is a human cost to the accountability culture that reduces schooling to data and judgements this is felt most profoundly by children with SEN and their families Jarlath shares some of the problems he's witnessed with inclusion and exclusion mainstream schools actively encouraging children with SEN to look elsewhere parents reporting their children have been formally or informally excluded from school and socially excluded by the parents of other children children asked to leave their mainstream schools because of their behaviour usually behaviour that is caused by their needs not being adequately addressed children who are in school but isolated from their peers If a child can't participate in activities or trips with the rest of the class or spends much of the day working one to one with a teaching assistant is this really inclusion The Pupil Premium has been established to ensure that children in receipt of free school meals are not disadvantaged why does something similar not exist for children with SEN Every health and wealth indicator that you could use to measure people with learning difficulties and special educational needs SEN reveals something alarming They die younger They work less They are more likely to live in poverty or end up in prison or face mental health difficulties They are much more likely to be excluded from school They are more likely to be bullied at school This has to end We all have to choose to commit to recognising that society as it is today is a difficult place for young people to thrive When you have autism or Down syndrome or any physical or learning difference it's even harder and the system as it stands isn't helping We need to acknowledge that this is not right that such a state of affairs must change and that we all have a part to play in making that change happen Jarlath offers suggestions for politicians Ofsted local authorities head teachers SENCOs teachers and teaching assistants about what they can do to make a difference For all politicians head teachers SENCOs teachers and parents Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1969 The Breeder's Gazette ,1888 Comprehensive Dissertation Index, 1861-1972: Education Xerox University Microfilms,1973 Comprehensive Dissertation Index, 1861-1972: Author index Xerox University Microfilms,1973
