Knowledge that Counts in a Global Community

Léonie J. Rennie, Grady Venville, John Wallace, 2013-03-01 As the third millennium progresses we are faced with increasing pressures relating to climate change and the sustainability of life on Earth Concerned citizens are realizing that the responsibility to respond is both local and global There is an increasing sense of urgency about the need to reform the processes of schooling and curriculum to better prepare students for global citizenship Educators policy makers and the wider community are seeking information about how to proceed with this reform effort particularly how alternative and integrated approaches to curriculum can be used to engage students with the important issues of our time Knowledge that Counts in a Global Community explores the potential contribution of curriculum integration in a context where school curricula are typically segregated by discipline It offers curriculum integration as a powerful tool for educating young citizens so that they can understand and respond to global concerns It argues for an informed citizenry who can think broadly across disciplines and contribute sensibly and pragmatically to local problems with an eye on how this translates to making a global difference In its examination of the twin themes of global knowledge and curriculum integration the book explores the nature of curriculum integration the nature of knowledge the nature of learning The authors reflect on these issues from perspectives gained by more than a decade of research in the area Their in depth scholarly exploration and critical analysis of current approaches to curriculum introduces educators and academics to contemporary ways of conceptualizing the complexities of and relationships among curriculum integration knowledge and learning Throughout the book the authors emphasize the central curriculum question what kinds of outcomes do we want for students of the twenty first century This book will provide a valuable resource for academic educators researchers teachers and others interested in educational policy reform

Smoking Geographies Ross Barnett,Graham Moon,Jamie Pearce,Liz Twigg,2017-03-13 Smoking Geographies provides a research led assessment of the impact of geographical factors on smoking The contributors uncover how geography can show us not only why people smoke but also broader issues of tobacco control providing deeper clarity on how smoking and tobacco is governed The text centres on one of the most important public health issues worldwide and a major determinant of preventable mortality and morbidity in developed and developing countries Records the outcomes of a long term research collaboration that brings a geographical lens to smoking behaviour Uncovers how geography can play a part in understanding not only why people smoke but also broader issues of tobacco control Provides a deeper understanding of how smoking and tobacco is governed regarding where people may smoke but also more subtle governance as a climate is produced in which smoking becomes denormalised Brings both quantitative and qualitative perspectives to bear on this major source of mortality and morbidity

Routledge's Every Man's Cyclopedia of Biography, History, Geography, General Information, Law, Spelling, Abbreviations, Synonyms, Pseudonyms, Etc Arnold Villiers,1910 Savage Exchange Tamara T. Chin,2020-10-26 Savage Exchange explores the politics of representation during the Han dynasty 206 BCE 220 CE at a pivotal moment when China was asserting imperialist power on the Eurasian continent and expanding its local and long distance Silk Road markets Tamara T Chin explains why rival political groups introduced new literary forms with which to represent these expanded markets To promote a radically quantitative approach to the market some thinkers developed innovative forms of fiction and genre In opposition traditionalists reasserted the authority of classical texts and advocated a return to the historical ethics centered marriage based agricultural economy that these texts described The discussion of frontiers and markets thus became part of a larger debate over the relationship between the world and the written word These Han debates helped to shape the ways in which we now define and appreciate early Chinese literature and produced the foundational texts of Chinese economic thought Each chapter in the book examines a key genre or symbolic practice philosophy fu rhapsody historiography money kinship through which different groups sought to reshape the political economy By juxtaposing well known texts with recently excavated literary and visual materials Chin elaborates a new literary and cultural approach to Chinese economic thought Co Winner 2016 Harry Levin Prize American Comparative Literature Association Honorable Mention 2016 Joseph Levenson Book Prize Pre 1900 Category China and Inner Asia Council of the Association for Asian Studies The Boundless Sea Peregrine Horden,Nicholas Purcell,2019-09-30 This volume brings together for the first time a collection of twelve articles written both jointly and individually by Peregrine Horden and Nicholas Purcell as they have participated in the debates generated by their major work The Corrupting Sea A Study of Mediterranean History 2000 One theme in those debates has been how a comprehensive Mediterranean history can be written how an approach to Mediterranean history by way of its ecologies and the communications between them can be joined up with more mainstream forms of enquiry cultural social economic and political with their specific chronologies and turning points The second theme raises the question of how Mediterranean history can be fitted into a larger indeed global history It concerns the definition of the Mediterranean in space the way to characterise its frontiers and the relations between the region so defined and the other large spaces many of them oceans to which historians have increasingly turned for novel disciplinary cum geographical units of study A volume collecting the two authors studies on both these themes as well as their reply to critics of The Corrupting Sea should prove invaluable to students and scholars from a number of disciplines ancient medieval and early modern history archaeology and social anthropology CS1083 Primary English for Trainee Teachers David Waugh,Wendy Jolliffe,Kate Allott,2023-03-15 What do I need know about English to teach it effectively in primary school How do children learn English How do I teach it What does a good primary English lesson look like This is the ultimate guide for primary trainee teachers grappling with these questions A comprehensive text supporting you to teach the National Curriculum for primary English it covers both subject knowledge and teaching theory and practice This new edition includes an updated chapter on Oracy Speaking and listening explorations of updated theory and reseach and new links to the Core Content Framework CCF Mapping the Cold War Timothy Barney,2015-04-13 In this fascinating history of Cold War cartography Timothy Barney considers maps as central to the articulation of ideological tensions between American national interests and international aspirations Barney argues that the borders scales projections and other conventions of maps prescribed and constrained the means by which foreign policy elites popular audiences and social activists navigated conflicts between North and South East and West Maps also influenced how identities were formed in a world both shrunk by advancing technologies and marked by expanding and shifting geopolitical alliances and fissures Pointing to the necessity of how politics and values were spatialized in recent U S history Barney argues that Cold War era maps themselves had rhetorical lives that began with their conception and production and played out in their circulation within foreign policy circles and popular media Reflecting on the ramifications of spatial power during the period Mapping the Cold War ultimately demonstrates that even in the twenty first century American visions of the world and the maps that account for them are inescapably rooted in the anxieties of that earlier era

The Bookman ,1901 Martin Waldseemüller's 'Carta marina' of 1516 Chet Van Duzer,2019-10-09 This open access book presents the first detailed study of one of the most important masterpieces of Renaissance cartography Martin Waldseem ller s Carta marina of 1516 By transcribing translating into English and detailing the sources of all of the descriptive texts on the map as well as the sources of many of the images the book makes the map available to scholars in a wholly unprecedented way In addition the book provides revealing insights into how Waldseem ller went about making the map information that can t be found in any other source The Carta marina is the result of Waldseem ller s radical re evaluation of what a world map should be he essentially started from scratch when he created it rejecting the Ptolemaic model and other sources he had used in creating his 1507 map and added more descriptive texts and a wealth of illustrations Given its content the book offers an essential reference work not only on this map but also for anyone working in sixteenth century European cartography
