commemoration of childhood classical antiquity fellow writers jazz physics swing theology and trains The Condition of Women in France Claire Laubier, 2003-09-02 Claire Laubier brings together documentary and statistical material extracts from newspapers and journals literary texts advertisements manifestos and personal testimonies Each extract relates to the different experiences of women in France at work in politics at home and in the family Together they offer a direct and thought provoking chronological and thematic account of women's lives in post war France Les Misérables Victor Hugo, 1897 The Image in the Modern French Novel Stephen Ullmann, 1963 Facing the Other Sean

Hand, 2014-04-04 Emmanuel Levinas is one of the key philosophers in the post Heideggerian field and an increasingly central presence in contemporary debates about identity and responsibility His work spans and encapsulates the major philosophical and ethical concerns of the twentieth century combining the insights of a basic phenomenological training with the demands of a Jewish culture and its basis in the endless exegesis of Talmudic reading His concerns and subjects are wide they include the Other the body infinity women Jewish Christian relations Zionism and the impulses and limits of philosophical language itself This collection explicates Levinas's major contribution to these debates namely the idea of the primacy of ethics over ontology or epistemology It investigates how in the wake of a post structuralist orthodoxy scholars and practitioners in such fields as literary theory cultural studies feminism and psychoanalysis are turning to Levinas's work to articulate a rediscovered concern with the ethical dimension of their discipline Stressing the largely assumed but unexplored Jewish dimension of Levinas's work this book is an important contribution to the field of Jewish studies and philosophy

Narratives of Catastrophe Nasrin Qader, 2009-08-25 Narratives of Catastrophe tells the story of the relationship between catastrophe in the senses of down turn and break and narration as recounting in the senses suggested by the French term raconté in selected texts by three leading writers from Africa Qader's book begins by exploring the political implications of narrating catastrophic historical events Through careful readings of singular literary texts on the genocide in Rwanda and on Tazmamart a secret prison in Morocco under the reign of Hassan II Qader shows how historical catastrophes enter language and how this language is marked by the catastrophe it recounts Not satisfied with the extra literary characterizations of catastrophe in terms of numbers laws and naming she investigates the catastrophic in catastrophe arguing that catastrophe is always an effect of language and thought The raconté becomes a privileged site because the difficulties of thinking and speaking about catastrophe unfold through the very movements of storytelling This book intervenes in important ways in the current scholarship in the field of African literatures It shows the contributions of African literatures in elucidating theoretical problems for literary studies in general such as storytelling's relationship to temporality subjectivity and thought Moreover it addresses the issue of storytelling which is of central concern in the context of African literatures but still remains limited mostly to the distinction between the oral and the written The notion of raconté breaks with this duality by foregrounding the inaugural temporality of telling and of writing as repetition The final chapters examine
