La Ronde Modern Plays:

Women in Modern Drama Gail Finney, 2019-06-30 An abundance of rich and memorable female roles is one of the most striking features of turn of the century European drama Gail Finney traces the source of this phenomenon to large scale upheavals in prevailing contemporary attitudes toward women She cites two major developments in particular the culmination in the years 1880 1920 of the first feminist movement and Freud's formulation of his theories of sexuality which emphasize differences between the sexes Taking into account these strong sometimes conflicting intellectual currents Women in Modern Drama explores the dynamics of gender identity and family relationships in major plays by European male dramatists including Ibsen Strindberg Shaw Wilde Schnitzler Synge Hofmannsthal Wedekind and Hauptmann

Ottomiller's Index to Plays in Collections Denise L. Montgomery, 2011-08-11 The standard location tool for full length plays published in collections and anthologies in England and the United States since the beginning of the 20th century Ottomiller's Index to Plays in Collections has undergone seven previous editions the latest in 1988 covering 1900 through 1985 In this new edition Denise Montgomery has expanded the volume to include collections published in the entire English speaking world through 2000 and beyond This new volume lists more than 3 500 new plays and 2 000 new authors as well as birth and or death information for hundreds of authors Representing the largest expansion between editions this updated volume is a valuable resource for libraries worldwide

Adaptations, Versions and Perversions in Modern British Drama Ignacio Ramos Gay, 2014-10-02 This book aims to explore which plays were deemed suitable to be reworked for foreign or local stages what transformations linguistic semiotic theatrical were undertaken so as to accommodate international audiences how national literary traditions are forged altered and diluted by means of transnational adapting techniques and finally to what extent the categorical boundaries between original plays and adaptations may be blurred on the account of such adjusting textual strategies It brings together ten articles that scrutinise the linguistic social political and theatrical complexities inherent in the intercultural transference of plays The approaches presented by the different contributors investigate modern British theatre as an instance of diachronic and synchronic transnational adaptations based upon a myriad of influences originating in and projected upon other national dramatic traditions These traditions rooted in relatively distant geographies and epochs are traced so as to illustrate the split between the state imposed identity and personal subjective identity caused by cultural negotiations of the self in an age of globalism International frontiers are thus pointed at in order to claim the need to be transcended in the process of cultural re appropriation associated with theatre performance for international audiences

Ottomiller's Index to Plays in Collections John Henry Ottomiller, Denise L. Montgomery, 2011-08-11 The standard location tool for full length plays published in collections and anthologies in England and the United States since the beginning of the 20th century Ottomiller's Index to Plays in Collections has undergone seven previous editions the latest in 1988 covering 1900 through 1985 In this new edition Denise Montgomery has expanded the volume to include collections published in the entire English speaking world through 2000 and beyond This new volume lists more than 3 500 new plays and 2 000 new authors as well as birth and or death information for hundreds of authors Representing the largest expansion between editions this updated volume is a valuable resource for libraries worldwide

The Methuen Drama Handbook of Women in Contemporary British Theatre Marissia Fragkou, Rebecca Benzie, 2025-02-06 This handbook provides a detailed exploration of the rich and diverse theatrical work produced by women in the first two decades of 21st century British theatre The book explores key issues and methodologies relevant to women working in the UK's theatre industry including the legacies of feminism and its role in shaping contemporary work by women the politics of visibility and inclusion in theatrical institutions and collaborative strategies in creating original work It closely examines how women in contemporary British theatre tackle urgent social issues such as environmental risk the representation of marginalized identities and mental and physical wellbeing Chapters by both established and early career scholars from a variety of international contexts present new perspectives on significant questions and issues underpinning women's work in 21st century British theatre by engaging with contemporary debates from theatre and performance studies and cultural theory A concluding roundtable with women theatre practitioners addresses key questions pertaining to their work including working conditions the politics of funding and of ageing disability and care With a foreword by the Guardian's chief theatre critic Arifa Akbar and featuring research tools such as introductions to sections a detailed list of sources and an annotated bibliography this is an authoritative study for anyone with a keen research interest in the distinct contribution of women to contemporary British theatre and performance

A Cultural History of Theatre in the Modern Age Kim Solga, 2019-08-08 To call something modern is to assert something fundamental about the social cultural economic and technical sophistication of that thing over and against what has come before A Cultural History of Theatre in the Modern Age provides an interdisciplinary overview of theatre and performance in their social and material contexts from the late 19th century through the early 2000s emphasizing key developments and trends that both exemplify and trouble the various meanings of the term modern and the identity of modernist theatre and performance Highly illustrated with 40 images the ten chapters each take a different theme as their focus institutional frameworks social functions sexuality and gender the environment of theatre circulation interpretations communities of production repertoire and genres technologies of performance and knowledge transmission
