La Shelby Bleue:

Cobra Trevor Legate, 2006 This book tells the complex saga of a sports car that was created in the early 1960s as a result of an unlikely collaboration between a plain talking ex racing driver from Texas and a conservative British automobile manufacturer funded by one of the giants of the industry the Ford Motor Company Carroll Shelby AC Cars and Ford came together to create a car called the Cobra based on the AC Ace roadster that had been in production since 1954 When the Shelby Cobra was created it was far from state of the art but the use of a new series of Ford V8 engines saw the lightweight car annihilate the Chevrolet Corvette in American sports car racing By adding aerodynamic bodywork the Daytona Cobra Coupe arrived in Europe to contest the FIA World Championship and took victory in the GT category in 1965 making Shelby American the first and only USA based manufacturer to achieve this feat In order to capitalize on this success even greater power was required and the car was developed to take a huge 7 liter engine that proved to be a triumph of horsepower over handling thus the 427 Cobra became an overnight legend establishing new performance records and creating a reputation for being more than a little tricky to drive The era of the Cobra was brief production ended at Shelby American during 1966 and at AC Cars in 1968 where they built their own final version the AC289 Sports Just over 1000 Cobras were built during that time but the final cars proved difficult to sell their vintage qualities deterring potential owners Carroll Shelby closed his company and went to Africa while AC developed other models but the Cobra was not quite finished yet Within a matter of a few years a new market for the car was created as the demand for affordable kit cars grew The most popular model by far was the Cobra and many thousands were built with the result that both AC Cars and Carroll Shelby put their own versions back into production And then the arguments really started If it was an improbable car over forty years ago it is even more implausible today but the remarkable Cobra in one form or another is still with us It may be dead but it just won't lie down

Le club des femmes

d'astronautes Lily Koppel, 2014-10-08 Les hommes envoyés dans l'espace au xxe siècle étaient certes fascinants mais leurs femmes restées sur Terre l'étaient encore plus Voici un compte rendu vivant de leur quotidien fait de gloire de peur et de solitude People Le 4 octobre 1957 Spoutnik 1 s'envole dans l'espace La nouvelle ravit autant qu'elle terrifie nous sommes en pleine guerre froide Pour la gagner les tats Unis se lancent dans une course l'espace où tout n'est que prouesses techniques et humaines Des hommes risquent leur vie pour réaliser en 1969 le rêve de Kennedy d'envoyer un homme sur la Lune Pour leurs pouses tout change de femmes de pilotes d'essai vivant chichement dans des bases aériennes elles deviennent les compagnes de superhéros que le monde entier admire Et quand leur mari monte dans une fusée fait le tour de la Lune où y pose le pied la colère les frappe instantanément la porte Invitations la Maison Blanche th avec les puissants argent maisons voitures tout leur est servi sur un plateau Tableau idyllique C'est vite oublier les médias qui n'ont aucun respect pour l'intimité occulter la peur visée au ventre de voir son mari carboniser la solitude de la pouse qui doit s'occuper des enfants et ne voit son homme que de temps en temps homme qui souvent la trompe tant il a de groupies ses pieds Alors elles créent ce club pour se porter secours

Aujourd'hui oubliées très peu d'entre elles sont sorties indemnes de l'aventure spatiale La journaliste Lily Koppel leur rend hommage dans ce récit et décrit l'envers du décor Un envers qui attriste autant qu'il fait sourire Executive Documents, Minnesota ... Minnesota, 1865
