Learning and Innovation in Natural Resource Based Industries Allan Dahl

Andersen, Anabel Marín, 2020-06-04 This book develops and articulates a new perspective on the relationship between natural resources and development by foregrounding issues of innovation knowledge and industrial dynamics Despite growing academic attention to the relationship between economic development and natural resources in social sciences the issue has received rather limited attention in the field of Innovation Studies This is problematic given the centrality of innovation and technological change for growth and development Against that background this book makes three contributions Firstly it summarizes and synthesizes existing insights about learning and innovation in Natural Resource Based Industries Secondly it develops new insights based on original research work Thirdly it distils and explains the remaining research challenges in the field Containing important insights for researchers businesses and policymakers this book will be useful to all those with an interest in navigating a natural resource based development pathway This book was originally published as a special issue of Innovation and Development

Young People on the Margins Loic Menzies, Sam Baars, 2021-03-30 Our society leaves too many young people behind More often than not these are the most vulnerable young people and it is through no fault of their own Building a fair society and an equitable education system rests on bringing in and supporting them By drawing together more than a decade of studies by the UK's Centre for Education and Youth this book provides a new way of understanding the many ways young people in England are pushed to the margins of the education system and in turn society Each contributor shares the personal stories of the young people they have encountered over the course of their fieldwork and practice combining this with accessible syntheses of previous studies alongside extensive analysis of national datasets and key publications By unpicking the many overlapping factors that contribute to different groups vulnerability the book demonstrates the need to understand each young person's life story and to respond quickly and collaboratively to the challenges they face The chapters conclude with action points highlighting the steps individuals institutions and policy makers can take to bring young people in from the margins Young People on the Margins showcases first hand examples of where these young people's needs are being addressed and trends bucked drawing out what can and must be learned for teachers leaders youth workers and policy makers

Regression Modelling with Spatial and Spatial-Temporal Data Robert P. Haining, Guangquan Li, 2020-01-27 Modelling Spatial and Spatial Temporal Data A Bayesian Approach is aimed at statisticians and quantitative social economic and public health students and researchers who work with spatial and spatial temporal data It assumes a grounding in statistical theory up to the standard linear regression model The book compares both hierarchical and spatial econometric modelling providing both a reference and a teaching text with exercises in each chapter The book provides a fully Bayesian self contained treatment of the underlying statistical theory with chapters dedicated to substantive applications The book includes WinBUGS code and R code and all datasets are available online Part I covers fundamental issues arising when modelling spatial and spatial temporal data Part II focuses on modelling cross sectional spatial data and begins by describing exploratory methods that help guide the modelling process There are then two theoretical chapters on Bayesian models and a chapter of applications Two chapters follow on spatial econometric modelling one describing different models the other substantive applications Part III discusses modelling spatial temporal data first introducing models for time series data Exploratory methods for detecting different types of space time interaction are presented followed by two chapters on the theory of space time separable without space time interaction and inseparable with space time interaction models An applications chapter includes the evaluation of a policy intervention analysing the temporal dynamics of crime hotspots chronic disease surveillance and testing for evidence of spatial spillovers in the spread of an infectious disease A final chapter suggests some future directions and challenges
