Facial Action Coding System Paul Ekman, 1993 Facial Action Coding System: Facial action coding system : the manual : on CD-ROM Paul Ekman, Wallace V. Friesen, Joseph C. Hager, 2002 Manual for the Facial Action Coding System Paul Ekman, Wallace V. Friesen, 1978 Handbook of Emotion Elicitation and Assessment James A. Coan, John J.B. Allen, 2007-04-19

Emotion research has become a mature branch of psychology with its own standardized measures induction procedures data analysis challenges and sub disciplines During the last decade a number of books addressing major questions in the study of emotion have been published in response to a rapidly increasing demand that has been fueled by an increasing number of psychologists whose research either focus on or involve the study of emotion Very few of these books however have presented an explicit discussion of the tools for conducting research despite the facts that the study of emotion frequently requires highly specialized procedures instruments and coding strategies and that the field has reached a place where a large number of excellent elicitation procedures and assessment instruments have been developed and validated Emotion Elicitation and Assessment corrects this oversight in the literature by organizing and detailing all the major approaches and instruments for the study of emotion It is the most complete reference for methods and resources in the field and will serve as a pragmatic resource for emotion researchers by providing easy access to a host of scales stimuli coding systems assessment tools and innovative methodologies This handbook will help to advance research in emotion by encouraging researchers to take greater advantage of standard and well researched approaches which will increase both the productivity in the field and the speed and accuracy with which research can be communicated

Handbook of Face Recognition Stan Z. Li, Anil K. Jain, 2011-08-22 This highly anticipated new edition provides a comprehensive account of face recognition research and technology spanning the full range of topics needed for designing operational face recognition systems After a thorough introductory chapter each of the following chapters focus on a specific topic reviewing background information up to date techniques and recent results as well as offering challenges and future directions Features fully updated revised and expanded covering the entire spectrum of concepts methods and algorithms for automated face detection and recognition systems provides comprehensive coverage of face detection tracking alignment feature extraction and recognition technologies and issues in evaluation systems security and applications contains numerous step by step algorithms describes a broad range of applications presents contributions from an international selection of experts integrates numerous supporting graphs tables charts and performance data What the Face Reveals Erika L. Rosenberg, Paul Ekman, 2020-06-15

For years What the Face Reveals has been a singular collection of previously published original research using the Facial Action Coding System FACS to study facial behavior Accompanying each article is an author commentary prepared for this book on the value of bringing FACS based measurement to their area of study The new third edition includes new research findings and applications and extends the focus of earlier volumes to showcase the development of Animal FACS systems and applications of automated FACS measurement What the Face Reveals is an indispensable reference to anyone who uses FACS in their research as the studies showcased here employ a variety of methodological and design technique for the use of FACS that could be replicated or extended in other research contexts New to this Edition Revised to include 50% new contributions reflecting changes in facial measurement in the 21st century New structure organized around six areas of FACS research Animal FACS Automated Measurement Basic Affective Science Development Pain Psychopathology and Social and Health Psychology Social and Interpersonal Dynamics in Pain Tine Vervoort, Kai Karos, Zina Trost, Kenneth M. Prkachin, 2018-07-18 This groundbreaking analysis moves our knowledge of pain and its effects from the biomedical model to one accounting for its complex psychosocial dimensions Starting with its facial and physical display pain is shown in its manifold social contexts in the lifespan in a family unit expressed by a member of a gender and or race and as observed by others These observations by caregivers and family are shown as vital to the social dynamic of pain as observers react to sufferers pain and as these reactions affect those suffering The book s findings should enhance practitioners understanding of pain to develop more effective individualized treatments for clients pain experience and inspire researchers as well Among the topics covered Why do we care Evolutionary mechanisms in the social dimension of pain When how and why do we express pain On the overlap between physical and social pain Facing others in pain why context matters Caregiving impact upon sufferers cognitive functioning Targeting individual and interpersonal processes in therapeutic interventions for chronic pain Social and Interpersonal Dynamics in Pain will be a valuable resource for clinicians who deal in pain practice and management as well as for students and researchers interested in the social interpersonal and emotional variables that contribute to pain the processes with which pain is associated and the psychology of pain in general
