Geographynd Paper 24:

Geography and Geographers Ron Johnston, James Sidaway, 2015-12-22 Explores the relationship between human and physical geography All chapters updated in the new edition to reflect new literature and changes in the discipline Chapter One systematically considers representations of geographical thought The closing chapter develops an explicit argument about what has made human geography distinctive Draws on a wide reading of the geographical literature produced during a fifty year period characterised by both growth in the number of academic geographers and substantial shifts in conceptions of the discipline s scientific rationale

The Walking Dead at Saqqara Lara Weiss, 2022-06-21 Funerary rituals and the cult of the dead are classics of research in religious studies especially for ancient Egypt Still we know relatively little about how people interacted in daily life at the city of Memphis and its Saqqara necropolis in the late second millennium BCE By focussing on lived ancient religion we can see that the social and religious strategies employed by the individuals at Saqqara are not just means on the way to religious post mortem salvation nor is their self representation simply intended to manifest social status On the contrary the religious practices at Saqqara show in their complex spatiality a wide spectrum of options to configure sociality before and after one s own death The analytical distinction between religion and other forms of human practices and sociality illuminates the range of cultural practices and how people selected modified or even avoided certain religious practices As a result pre funerary funerary and practices of the subsequent mortuary cults in close connection with religious practices directed towards other ancestors and deities allow the formation of imagined and functioning reminiscence clusters as central social groups at Saqqara creating a heuristic model applicable also to other contexts

SIPRE Report, Complex Locations Avril Maddrell, 2011-06-20 This enlightening book makes visible the lives and works of women who played a critical role in the development of geography as an academic field A rare and detailed analysis of the geographical work of 30 individual women geographers from 1850 to 1970 Includes oral histories from women who have held appointments in British universities since World War II Makes the work of women geographers visible and challenges the notion of pre 1970s geography as an overwhelmingly masculine field Makes an important contribution to debates about the theoretical and methodological framing of the historiography of geography

Geographers Elizabeth Baigent, André Reyes Novaes, 2018-11-15 Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 37 explores the concept of distinction in geography Through the lives of six geographers working in Brazil North America Europe and R union it investigates what distinction consists of how we identify and celebrate it and how it relates to quotidian practices in the discipline The volume highlights the continuing importance of biography and the International Geographical Union in recording and assessing distinction It also considers the relevance of personal networks for the circulation and translation of distinguished geographical knowledge and how this knowledge can underpin applied projects and critical appraisal of geographical scholarship both at a national and sub national level Gendered notions of distinction are also addressed particularly through June Sheppard who found limited recognition for her work as a result of gendered expectations within the discipline and society at large By reflecting on how we locate distinguished geographers and tell their histories Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 37 makes an important contribution to fostering less canonical work in historical geography Papers Available Foreign Affairs Research Documentation Center, 1968

Textures of Place Paul C. Adams, Steven D. Hoelscher, Karen E. Till, 2001 A fresh and far ranging interpretation of the concept of place this volume begins with a fundamental tension of our day as communications technologies help create a truly global economy the very political economic processes that would seem to homogenize place actually increase the importance of individual localities which are exposed to global flows of investment population goods and pollution Place no less today than in the past is fundamental to how the world works The contributors to this volume distinguished scholars from geography art history philosophy anthropology and American and English literature investigate the ways in which place is embedded in everyday experience its crucial role in the formation of group and individual identity and its ability to reflect and reinforce power relations Their essays draw from a wide array of methodologies and perspectives including feminism ethnography poststructuralism ecocriticism and landscape ichnography to examine themes as diverse as morality and imagination attention and absence personal and group identity social structure home nature and cosmos The Reference Catalogue of Current Literature , 1894
