Hartley, 2014-11-06 Night hunting is a favorite form of hunting sport the continent over Prime factor of the joyous though strenuous night quest is the coon the court jester and wit of the nocturnal tribe of small fur bearers Owing to the scarcity of other game and general distribution of raccoon the country over coon hunting is gaining in popular favor winning over many of the wealthy city dwelling red bloods who formerly were content with more or less pleasant and successful sallies to the fields in the day time Consequently there is an increased demand for properly bred and trained dogs to afford the maximum of success and pleasure in this pursuit With the ownership of dogs go the care maintenance and proper methods of handling these willing helpers Surprising is the meagerness of the information available to the average hunter though night hunting is an institution as old as the settlement of Jamestown The Azawakh: A Complete and Comprehensive Beginners

Guide To: Buying, Owning, Health, Grooming, Training, Obedience, Understanding Michael Stonewood, 2019-03-14

The Azawakh is a breed of sighthound that originates from Africa The breed was mainly developed by the nomads of the Sahara desert and in the countries Mali Niger Burkina Faso and southern Algeria The Azawakh was originally developed to be a guard dog as well as having the ability to spot and hunt large and fast prey such as gazelles and desert hares The Azawakh is highly athletic and energetic due to match its original purpose and can achieve running speeds of up to 40 miles per hour Unlike most sighthounds the Azawakh is a pack hunter They chase their prey as a pack and bump the preys hindquarters until it reaches the point of exhaustion The breed is also known to guard as a pack If a single Azawakh senses danger they will bark and alert the rest of the pack who will group around the alpha dog and either scare off or attack the predator or source of danger The Azawakh is an incredibly hardy animal it has incredibly high physical endurance and can happily run in heats of over 100 degrees Fahrenheit which would kill a greyhound However the Azawakh is known to become whiney and unhappy in cold and wet climates and it is therefore not recommended to own a Azawakh in a country that is not hot for the majority of the year The breed is known to create a strong bond with their owners but as still able to function independently due to their high levels of intelligence The Azawakh is also known to be affectionate loving and loyal The breed is known to be good around small children as they have traditionally always served the nomads of the Sahara as protectors when they are not being used to hunt Before purchasing any pet it is important to understand that as a pet owner you are responsible for the care and wellbeing of your pet It is important to try and learn as much as you can about the animal you are considering to keep as a pet to make sure that your lifestyle household and financial status are suited to provide your pet
