Risk Analysis IX C. A. Brebbia,2014-06-04 Containing papers presented at the 9th International Conference on Computer Simulation in Risk Analysis and Hazard Mitigation this book covers a series of important topics of current research interests and many practical applications It is concerned with all aspects of risk management and hazard mitigation associated with both natural and anthropogenic hazards The analysis and management of risk and the mitigation of hazards is of fundamental importance to planners and researchers around the world We live in an increasingly complex society with the potential for disasters on a worldwide scale Natural hazards such as floods earthquakes landslides fires and others have always affected human societies Man made hazards however played a comparatively small role a few centuries ago until the risk of catastrophic events started to increase due to the rapid growth of new technologies The interaction of natural and anthropogenic risks adds to the complexity of the problem Topics covered include Risk assessment Risk management Hazard prevention management and control Early warning systems Risk mapping Natural hazards Disaster management Vulnerability assessment Health risk Debris flow and flood hazards Case studies Climate change Safety and security Evacuation simulation and design Political and economic vulnerability The Washington Post Index ,2008 Of Rainfalls and Disasters Juan Manuel Rodríguez Esteves , Disasters associated with natural phenomena such as earth quakes floods droughts etcetera are intensifying damages that translate into deaths the loss of infrastructure and the interruption of economic activities The accelerated growth of cities frequently incorporates new areas that are susceptible to certain hazards leaving society increasingly exposed due to a mismanagement of land Since the 1990s the social sciences have developed the approach of vulnerability which considers the conditions of weakness of a society to cope with hazards We now know that risk is socially constructed and so disasters are not only a result of the intensity of the geophysical phenomena that unleash them but also of the contexts of vulnerability present when a phenomenon takes place The aim of this work is to show how the risk of flood disasters is constructed in Tijuana Baja California with four main elements as our starting point An examination of floods since the late 19th century the voice of the actors present for flooding events a theoretical model to understand the relationship between the hazard and the magnitude of the risk and recommendations for disaster risk management at a local level Monthly Weather Review ,1915
