Taboo Don Kulick, Margaret Willson, 2003-09-02 A look at sexuality in anthropological fieldwork The author looks at how the anthropologists sexual identity in their home society affects the kind of sexuality they are allowed to express in other cultures Researching Sex and Sexualities Charlotte Morris, Paul Boyce, Andrea Cornwall, Hannah Frith, Laura Harvey, Yingying Huang, 2018-02-15 Sexuality is a complex and multifaceted domain encompassing bodily contextual and subjective experiences that resist ready categorisation To claim the sexual as a viable research object therefore raises a number of important methodological questions what is it possible to know about experiences practices and perceptions of sex and sexualities What approaches might help or hinder our efforts to probe such experiences This collection explores the creative personal and contextual parameters involved in researching sexuality cutting across disciplinary boundaries and drawing on case studies from a variety of countries and contexts Combining a wide range of expertise its contributors address such key areas as pornography sex work intersectionality and LGBT perspectives The contributors also share their own experiences of researching sexuality within contrasting disciplines as well as interrogating how the sexual identities of researchers themselves can relate to and inform their work The result is a unique and diverse collection that combines practical insights on field work with novel theoretical reflections Names and Stories Kali Israel, 2002 Employing an individual life lived under any names Names and Stories investigates nineteenth century British culture while also embodying a critical and historical engagement with theoretical questions The book examines the histories of gender knowledge families bodies art and political thought in Victorian Britain contributing to both literary studies and cross disciplinary feminist scholarship By exploring key facets of British cultural and political history in the 1800s this new work rigorously addresses wider themes of narrative figuration and historical writing and reading Queering Sexualities in Turkey Cenk Özbay, 2017-05-25 Despite its some of its more liberal and democratic characteristics when compared to many other countries in the Middle East the more conservative elements within Turkish politics and society have made gains over the past decades As a result like many others in the region Turkish society has multiple standards when naming evaluating and reacting to men who have sex with men Cenk Özbay argues that overall self identified gay men as well as men who practice clandestine same sex acts are most of the time marginalised ostracised and rendered immoral in both everyday practices and social institutions He offers in this book an analysis of the concept of masculinity as central to redefining boundaries of class gender and sexuality particularly looking at the dynamics between self identified gay men and straight acting male prostitutes or rent boys A result of in depth interviews with both self identified gay men and rent boys Özbay explores the changing discourses and meaning of class gender and queer sexualities and how these three are embedded within urban and familial narratives The Rhetoric of the Body from Ovid to Shakespeare Lynn Enterline, 2000-05-11 This persuasive book analyses the complex often violent connections between body and voice in Ovid's Metamorphoses and narrative lyric and dramatic works by Petrarch Marston and Shakespeare Lynn Enterline describes the foundational yet often disruptive force that Ovidian rhetoric exerts on early modern poetry particularly on representations of the self the body and erotic life Paying close attention to the trope of the female voice in the Metamorphoses as well as early modern attempts at transgendered ventriloquism that are indebted to Ovid's work she argues that Ovid's rhetoric of the body profoundly challenges Renaissance representations of authorship as well as conceptions about the difference between male and female experience This vividly original book makes a vital contribution to the study of Ovid's presence in Renaissance literature The Elementary

1949 cur Well-Dressed Role Models Gale Eaton,2006-06-08 This study provides a qualitative exploration of juvenile biographies of women a genre defined here as a book dealing with the whole or partial life of an individual and reviewed as nonfiction for readers in elementary middle or junior high school Beginning with a survey of juvenile material on Elizabeth Tudor published in England and the United States between 1852 and 2002 author Gale Eaton scrutinizes thirty four books juvenile biographies histories and collected biographies for trends in both content and rhetoric Well Dressed Role Models The Portrayal of Women in Biographies for Children then goes on to look at close readings of books published in the United States in the years 1946 1971 and 1996 and presents a penetrating analysis of a genre that serves the needs of youth The findings of this study include the fact that juvenile biographies make role models out of women who in many cases never would have become famous by following all the rules for good girls By choice of subject and emphasis their authors dress the life stories of real women in the appropriate values of new generations Three appendixes providing annotated book lists for each of the three years analyzed conclude this study Why Borders Matter Frank Furedi,2020-05-13 Western society has become estranged from the borders and social boundaries that have for centuries given meaning to human experience This book argues that the controversy surrounding mass migration and physical borders runs in parallel and is closely connected to the debates surrounding the symbolic boundaries people need to guide on the issues of everyday life Numerous commentators claim that borders have become irrelevant in the age of mass migration and globalisation Some go so far as to argue for No Borders And it is not merely the boundaries that divide nations that are under attack The traditional boundaries that separate adults from children or men from women or humans from animals or citizens and non citizens or the private from the public sphere are often condemned as arbitrary unnatural and even unjust Paradoxically the attempt to alter or abolish conventional boundaries coexists with the imperative of constructing new ones No Border campaigners call for safe spaces Opponents of cultural appropriation demand the policing of language and advocates of identity politics are busy building boundaries to keep out would be encroachers on their identity Furedi argues that the key driver of the confusion surrounding borders and boundaries is the difficulty that society has in endowing experience with meaning The most striking symptom of this trend is the cultural devaluation of the act of judgment which has led to a loss of clarity about the moral boundaries in everyday life The infantilisation of adults that runs in tandem with the adultification of children offers a striking example of the consequence of non judgmentalism Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars in cultural sociology sociology of knowledge philosophy political theory and cultural studies The Problem with Pleasure Laura Frost, 2013-07-09 Aldous Huxley decried the horrors of modern pleasure or the proliferation of mass produced widely accessible entertainment that could degrade or dull the mind He and his contemporaries including James Joyce T S Eliot Gertrude Stein D H Lawrence and Jean Rhys sought to radically redefine pleasure constructing arduous and indirect paths to delight through their notoriously daunting work Laura Frost follows these experiments in the art of unpleasure connecting modernism s signature characteristics such as irony allusiveness and obscurity to an ambitious attempt to reconfigure bliss In The Problem with Pleasure Frost draws upon a wide variety of materials linking interwar amusements such as the talkies romance novels the Parisian fragrance Chanel no 5 and the exotic confection Turkish Delight to the artistic play of Joyce Lawrence Stein Rhys and others She considers pop cultural phenomena and the rise of celebrities such as Rudolph Valentino and Gypsy Rose Lee against contemporary sociological scientific and philosophical writings on leisure and desire Throughout her study Frost incorporates recent scholarship on material and visual culture and vernacular modernism recasting the period s high low elite popular divides and formal strategies as efforts to regulate sensual and cerebral experience Capturing the challenging tensions between these artists commitment to innovation and the stimulating amusements they denounced yet deployed in their writing Frost calls attention to the central role of pleasure in shaping interwar culture

Writing for Immortality Anne E. Boyd, 2010-01-01 Before the Civil War American writers such as Catharine Maria Sedgwick and Harriet Beecher Stowe had established authorship as a respectable profession for women But though they had written some of the most popular and influential novels of the century they accepted the taboo against female writers regarding themselves as educators and businesswomen During and after the Civil War some women writers began to challenge this view seeing themselves as artists writing for themselves and for posterity Writing for Immortality studies the lives and works of four prominent members of the first generation of American women who strived for recognition as serious literary artists Louisa May Alcott Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Elizabeth Stoddard and Constance Fenimore Woolson

Combining literary criticism and cultural history Anne E Boyd examines how these authors negotiated the masculine connotation of artist imagining a space for themselves in the literary pantheon Redrawing the boundaries between male and female literary spheres and between American and British literary traditions Boyd shows how these writers rejected the didacticism of the previous generation of women writers and instead drew their inspiration from the most prominent literary writers of their day Emerson James Barrett Browning and Eliot Placing the works and experiences of Alcott Phelps Stoddard and Woolson within contemporary discussions about genius and the American artist Boyd reaches a sobering conclusion Although these women were encouraged by the democratic ideals implicit in such concepts they were equally discouraged by lingering prejudices about their applicability to women
