Kaplan, 2004 A longer range purpose is to collect comparable information on as many polities as possible in order to facilitate the development of a richer theory to guide language policy and planning in other polities that undertake the development of a national policy on languages This volume is part of an areal series which is committed to providing descriptions of language planning and policy in countries around the world BOOK JACKET Consequences, Where Silence Rules Richard Carver, 1990 Educating Tomorrow Angela Thody, 2000 It is well accepted that education needs to be equalised along gender lines However until the management of education is also gender sensitive that content cannot expect to be effectively communicated This is the premise of this groundbreaking book It addresses gender issues and management practices in education by critically examining both successes and failures drawn from a number of African countries It proposes ways of improving the management of education to focus on women who have hitherto been left out of the mainstream of educational and training practices It throws a uniquely African light on an issue that goes to the heart of the process of democratisation In order to empower the girl child in the new South Africa and in Africa the patriarchal and parochial structures that exist within the African educational paradigm need to be broken down and replaced This would address problems such as why women are discouraged from certain fields of studies like sciences the effect that interactions in learning situations can have on the achievement and attainment of female students and the critical necessity of educating and training girls in rural Africa The book speaks to the heart of the administrative processes within the education framework and shows how the way classes are structured or materials selected needs to be adapted in order to correct the present imbalance It was created and developed with the aim of seeking out the best education management practices finding common analyses from these and using them to develop guidelines for future education management

International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties Annemarie Fritz,Vitor Geraldi Haase,Pekka Räsänen,2019-01-30 This comprehensive volume provides teachers researchers and education professionals with cutting edge knowledge developed in the last decades by the educational behavioural and neurosciences integrating cognitive developmental and socioeconomic approaches to deal with the problems children face in learning mathematics The neurocognitive mechanisms and the cognitive processes underlying acquisition of arithmetic abilities and their significance for education have been the subject of intense research in the last few decades but the most part of this research has been conducted in non applied settings and there s still a deep discrepancy between the level of scientific knowledge and its implementation into actual educational settings Now it s time to bring the results from the laboratory to the classroom Apart from bringing the theoretical discussions to educational settings the volume presents a wide range of methods for early detection of children with risks in mathematics learning and strategies to develop effective interventions based on innovative cognitive test instruments It also provides insights to translate research knowledge into public policies in order to address socioeconomic issues And it does so from an international perspective dedicating a whole section to the cultural diversity of mathematics learning difficulties in different parts of the world All of this makes the International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties an essential tool for those involved in the daily struggle to prepare the future generations to succeed in the global knowledge society Proceedings of the (H)IGCSE Colloquium on Teacher Education F.
