The basic purpose of this book is to help policy makers at all levels of government understand that 1 widespread adolescent underachievement is not susceptible to solution by educational interventions no matter how much money is allocated to public education and 2 there are unidentified educational and civic costs to focusing on low achievement and to expecting public institutions of education for K 12 and college to solve a growing social problem Many policy makers seem to think that teachers schools are the primary cause of low achievement Educational institutions still cannot solve a non education caused problem and haven t done so for over fifty years despite all the public and private money that has been allocated The book concludes with suggested policies for addressing the damage to public education from gap closing standards and with suggested areas for policy making in order to change the current course of failure for many low achieving students

This twenty third ICMI Study addresses for the first time mathematics teaching and learning in the primary school and pre school setting while also taking international perspectives socio cultural diversity and institutional constraints into account One of the main challenges of designing the first ICMI primary school study of this kind is the complex nature of mathematics at the early level Accordingly a focus area that is central to the discussion was chosen together with a number of related questions The broad area of Whole Number Arithmetic WNA including operations and relations and arithmetic word problems forms the core content of all primary mathematics curricula The study of this core content area is often regarded as foundational for later mathematics learning However the principles and main goals of instruction on the foundational concepts and skills in WNA are far from universally agreed upon and practice varies substantially from country to country As such this study presents a meta level analysis and synthesis of what is currently known about WNA providing a useful base from which to gauge gaps and shortcomings as well as an opportunity to learn from the practices of different countries and contexts
